

Baroque and Mozart to spark concert

"Baroque for a Buck, plus Mozart" is the name of the mid-season concert set for 8:30 p.m. on Friday, July 15 by Workshop in the Woods.

Located at Duns Scotus College, Nine Mile and Evergreen in Southfield, advanced music students from the greater Detroit area will participate in this summer's first of two concerts.

Joining the instrumental group this year will be the newly formed choral department headed by Dave Jorlett, director of the Southfield Bach Chorale.

Handel's Concerto Grosso for Two solo Violins, Cello and Chamber Orchestra, Mozart's Symphony No. 31 and the Pergolesi "Magnificat" will be among the works presented in the Italian Gothic Chapel of the Duns Scotus Seminary.

Ray Benner of the Detroit Symphony, who is the workshop's founder and director said: "It appears that the majority of the area's fine string talent is at home this summer. As a result the standard at the workshop is way up."

"My observation since I arrived here in 1962 is that the Detroit area spans far and away the highest ratio of talent in the U. S. And most interesting is that they are almost all females."

"In view of the trend it would be safe to predict that in the not too distant future the large majority of players in the string sections of orchestras will be women."

Southfield members of the workshop are Edith Nagy, Deborah, Goatey, Andrea Kotch and Carol Gagliardi.

The public is invited to attend "Baroque for a Buck" and the admission is just $1 at the door. There will be no advance sale and the dollar is the ticket.

Workshop in the Woods is sponsored by the Southfield Arts Council and the City of Southfield's Department of Parks and Recreation. For further information call 548-7560.

How to get your news in the paper

When you submit information for an article in Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, keep in mind the following pointers. By following these recommendations, you will save delays and avoid errors.

• Be certain you give us complete information. It's better to submit too much information than too little.

• When an individual's name is to be used in an article, be sure to give us the first and last name. For instance, you and the members of your church may know that Rev. Smith's first name is John, but our other readers may not.

• Be certain that the information is readable. Illegible information is the prime cause of errors in any newspaper.

• Be sure to include your own name and phone number. If you have accidentally omitted information or if we cannot read your writing, we will still have a means of checking the information.

• If you plan to submit a photograph with an article, be sure that it is a good one. A sharp, black-and-white photograph is best, but even color photos will work if they are in focus and have good contrast.
