The Old School House

To the Editor: To the Editor:

It is a far cry from the Farm-ington High school of today, back to the little select school, backly the index select saled, established nearly 50 years ago by Miss Mary Fairchild, in a stuffy and somnolent little one room building situated on the so-called "Old Farmington Road," a short distance west of where once stood Octavia Wheelock's Academy

The seats and desks of this castle of indolonce were rather primative and unattached to the floor, in order that the room might be used at intervals as a Masonic hall.
