GARRICK.

At the Garrick Theatre for Christmas week, William Harris, Jr., will present "The Hib Chain," a play of mystery written by Bayard Veiller, which had a notable run last season in New York City and which has added a new thrill to the drama.

It is a play of absorbing interest, with vivid effects in which the problem of spiritualism plays a prominent part.

MADISON.

Christmas week at the Madison will be celebrated with Mae Marsh in another sympathetic, lovable, human characterization in her latest Goldwyn play, "The ADAMS.

Extraordinary interest centers in this Christmas week offering, when Jane Cowly's "Little Time" is presented at the Detroit Opera House a few weeks ago at $2.00 prices, will have its first presentation in any stock theater in the country.

Written by Mrs. Jane Murnan and Miss Cowly, the play portrays special interest for Detroit theatergoers.

Mrs. Fox Courtney will be an ideal Jeannine, while Mr. Glaser, in Orme Calton's role of Phillip, will be seen in one of those romantic lover roles in which he excels.

CADILLAC.

The "Hannock Mists" are playing to large audiences this week. Next week the same company will present "The Mischief Makers."

Self-Pity; Self-Prize.

Half the world is gnawed by the beast Self Pity and the other half is bitten by the beast Self-Prize. It is better to chain both these animals and go free and unconcerned about self. All this concern about self is the misfortune which dogs the man who has not related himself to the one universal law.

Time for Strategy.

There is no such thing as returning to the days of one's youth. If there were and we were asked if the teacher liked us, our reply would be "Not exactly," we made a strategic retirement after almost losing the seat of our trousers."—Houston Post.

Decidedly Unusual.

A Wisconsin man's defense against his wife's divorce suit was on the ground that she refused to speak to him and compelled him to buy a phonograph for company.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

They can conquer who believe they can. Courage consists in equality to the problem; before you—Emerson.

It is right to be contented with what we have; never with what we are.—James Macintosh.

HELPFUL HINTS.

Save all vegetable liquors in which vegetables are cooked to add to various foods. Potato water may be used in yeast, bread, gravies and griddle cakes. As the mineral salts are largely dissolved in the water while cooking the vegetables it is economy to save every bit and use it in the food in some way. A tablespoonful of condensed milk added to a bowl of cream that has been whipped, stirring it in well, adds to its flavor and increases the amount that much.

A small flashlight is a great convenience around closets or cupboards that are dark. They are useful also in looking into cupboards and drawers. When food spoils it and spoils a glass of soda and enough cold water to cover the bottom of the dish, boil up and then set it back to soften. A glassful of hot milk will help many to remedy sleeplessness, taken in sips just before retiring.

For throat and aching feet a tablespoonful of formaldehyde in a bowl of hot water, allowing the feet to soak 10 or 15 minutes, will greatly relieve them. To rub them with alcohol or vinegar will be found soothing. Add a cupful of cooked rice to a meat loaf. It will make the meat so much finer.

A Turkish towel wrung out of hot water and applied to the back of the neck will often relieve a sick headache. Substitute your meat chopper with a cleaver. It will not flavor the food or become rancid. A teaspoonful of glycerine added to ketchup will keep it from becoming so objectionable. If a little cold water is added to butter and sugar when creaming it will cream faster and quickly. Do not season steak until it is ready to put upon the platter.

When putting a cake into the tin, push the water up on the sides if a layer tin, or from the center if a loaf tin. It will help with a more even surface, avoiding the hump in the middle which is so unsightly.

Sliced bananas with sugar and whipped cream are delicious. In a baked shell is another delicious pie.

If we could read the secret history of our emotions we should find that each man's life sorrow and suffering enough to disarm all hostility.—Lansdowne.

HELPFUL HINTS AND ECONOMIES

A most tasty fat for various uses may be made by trying out suet and mixing it while still hot with an equal portion of lard, stir until well mixed, and it will keep and always stay soft enough to be mixed into any food.

When giving a baby medicine, place the tip of the spoon against the roof of the baby's mouth; in this way it is impossible for the child to choke or object to the contents of the spoon by spitting. When teaching a baby to eat from a spoon the same method will prove useful.

An old cook claims that all fish appetizers if allowed to lie two hours or more before they are cooked. A medicine dropper which refuses to function will be made active again by dropping it into hot water. The heat softens the rubber and expands it.

A thick slice of ham parboiled in a little water, then covered with sweet milk and a little brown sugar, and baked slowly, makes a most delicious meat dish.

A piano tuner advises the use of a small dish of water in the back part of the instrument to counteract the dryness of the room due to furnace heat. This will keep the piano in tune.

The old batteries which are useless and discarded from the auto may be burned in the grate after a wood fire has been started, making the most beautiful colors, especially delightful for a Christmas party.

A tablespoonful of olive oil with a few drops of vinegar will ease a midnight cough when all else fails. Half of a wooden clothes pin will keep a wing-rattled window quiet through the sleeping hours. A clothes pin or two will be found convenient to carry in one's suit case for various emergencies besides noisy windows.
