THE YOUNGEST STATE IN THE UNION

YIELDING THE GREATEST WEALTH TO THE NATION

Arizona's Offering to the World 1,250,000 Pounds of Copper
During 1917, a Big Factor in Helping to Win the War.

Historians estimate that copper was known and used at least 7,000 years before Christ. Two thousand years before the Christian era it was the money standard of ancient civilization. Even in the most remote times it was a metal of esteemed value and mines where it was produced were prized among the greatest possessions of the tribes or nations.
For three thousand years Spain has been furnishing copper to the world. Its famous Rio Tinto mine, although worked intermittently for many hundreds of years, still remains one of the greatest copper producers of the world. There are possibly but few people today who know that the American copper production is nearly ten times greater than that of any other single country in the world, and in 1917 formed over 63% of the world's output with Arizona leading its two nearest rivals, Montana and Michigan, by $5,000,000 pounds, with a record of production valued at $190,000,000.

Arizona Leads the World.
Arizona is the great copper state of the Union, it leads the world in production of the red metal. The largest and richest copper mines in the world are located in Arizona, and yet how few people know of this fact and also that the copper export alone for the year 1916 exceeded $324,000,000.

We appreciate that to the easterners; the busy men and women (whose every waking thought is taken up with the great industrial problems of the nation and the consequent demands made on them by the war), know but little of the wealth hidden in the mountains of Arizona.

Arizona is the richest spot in mineral resources on the globe, and it has been developed only in spots. It is Nature's storehouse, filled to the brim with billions upon billions of metallic goods, waiting the energy and ingenuity of man to extract it and turn it into wealth in the form of money. The president of a large national bank in Chicago was under criticism by the presidents of several other banks, because of his investment in a gold and copper mine in the Rocky Mountains. In reply, he said:
"Through the Rocky Mountains, ages ago, God Almighty built stronger vaults in his granite banks than we have in our own. He filled his vaults with gold, silver and copper."
"He gave the prospector knowledge and insight and granted him his way to the door of the vaults. He had built."

"The Federal government handed him a key to all there is to all there is. It is not a crime, but a virtue to enter; with drill, blast, pick and spade, the prospectors have broken the concrete locks and entered, but for him our notes of issue would be as the Stamp-tail currency of 1837, for him this government of ours would be bankrupt."

"Mines will be producing millions in gold, silver and copper in that future day when national banks are unknown."

"A mine contains a crop already raised, harvested and on deposit in a bank for you to check against at your pleasure."

"The wealth gathered from the mines immortalized King Solomon, and made Great Britain the commercial dictator of the world."

"Mining has made the United States the richest country in the world."

"Show me a country without mines and I will show you a people sunk in degradation and poverty makes coward of nations as well as individuals."

"Mining has transformed poor men into millionaires and raised them to positions of honor and trust than any other business."

"Mining has secured less than 35 per cent of failure against 95 per cent of failures shown in the general merchandising business of the United States."

"Without the production of the mines you would have neither a frying-pan, spoon, a bathtub nor a monetary circulation medium."

"There are today many mines that are in the making, with great possibilities for the future."

"Most of the really great mines of the United States were once disdainfully regarded by those investors who pride themselves on being conservative."

Optimistic Thought.
A man becomes learned by asking questions.

But the persons who have the ability to recognize intrinsic merit in a property, the courage of their convictions, and the patience to await developments are generally rewarded many fold in dividends and marked appreciation when the "little mine" becomes a "big producing mine."
Some idea of the immense amount of money made and paid in dividends from Arizona mines may be gained from the following brief summary paid a few, yes a very small percentage of the total number of mines producing and paying dividends in Arizona today. Shannon Copper has paid $750,000. Shattuck Copper $2,271,000. Ray Consolidated Copper $719,430. Miami Copper $3,718,954. Old Dominion Copper $3,833,718. Arizona Copper $18,103,587. Calumet & Arizona $21,141,689. United Verde $33,372,000. Besides millions of dollars from other mines in the state.

High Cost of Metals.
With the present price of metals and the steady advancing market, even smaller producers have proven money-makers for their owners, while the fortunate possessors of large holdings have piled up tremendous fortunes.

We have unbounded faith in the future of Champarado copper mines. So many instances of property similarly located, that is adjoining proper properties, have paid their owners large returns that we cannot help but believe that those who join in the development of this mine from the beginning will realize a profit of several hundred per cent on their investment. We are firmly convinced that there is no better profit producing opportunity anywhere in Arizona than the stock of the Champarado copper mining company.

You will no doubt be surprised to learn that the combined stock owned by the copper companies of the United States are greater than the combined dividends paid by all the railroads of the United States, and that 52 per cent of the freight handled by these same railroads is taken up by or some companies connected with the mining and milling of ore.

Interesting Government Figures.
Government figures show the following returns in capital invested:
Railroads 3 per cent
National banks 6 1/2 per cent
Insurance 4 per cent
Lumbering 4 per cent
Manufacturing 4 per cent
Mining 11 1/2 per cent
These statistical facts are irrefutable arguments within themselves to prove that the mining industry is one of the most profitable of all the world's activities.

That the world will, with the coming of peace, even more than with the abnormal demands of war, require all the American copper that our mines can produce is the natural and unquestionable conclusion to be drawn from current conditions. No matter what the value of copper mines are on top, they grow richer, bigger and better as they go down.

They are heavy steady producers and steady dividend payers.

If you are interested in copper mining, the most profitable business on earth, and would like to learn about the Champarado copper mine, located in the heart of one of the richest copper mining sections in the United States, write to the Champarado Copper Mining Company, 601 Old White Building, Detroit, Michigan.

To every one who sends in one of these coupons within the next five days we will give a fine new set of mining tools, the principal mines and mining towns of Arizona, a very complete map of the State, and useful to anyone interested in Arizona.

Agriculture.
It is an interesting fact that east of the Rocky mountains agriculture is fairly well distributed, taking into consideration the varying areas of the states, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. California shows up well because of her immense fruit and grain crops. England appears to be lagging, but all New England is less in area than a great many individual states, and this "sterile soil" produces about as much as Missouri, which has a large area than covered New England. Massachusetts produces more value per acre than any other commonwealth.

Ringling China Dells.
When first introduced, china bells were rung by a number of men, each grasping a rope from one particular bell and striking it at the precise moment the leader pointed a finger at him for a signal. The custom originated in Europe, and was imported into this country when the first chime were brought over. This was shortly after the country's independence was declared, the new bells being placed in the Trinity church, New York City. It required seven men to ring the seven bells, and it was not until 1800 that a plan was devised whereby one man alone was able to ring the bells.

All Over!
Billy and his mother had been to the movies one afternoon to see "Jack, the Giant Killer." During supper a discussion arose between his two older brothers as to whether they should go. Billy listened awhile and then spoke up: "There ain't no use you boys talking 'bout goin' to that show tonight. Jack killed the giant this afternoon."

Blue Water and Air.
Pure water, according to Lord Rayleigh, is greenish blue, while pure air is blue, because, according to Newton's dictum, the molecules of the air are sufficiently large to reflect blue rays.

Mistaken Contempt.
It was justly said by Emperor Charles V that to learn a new language is to learn to acquire a new soul. He who is acquainted only with the writers of his native tongue is in perpetual danger of confounding what is accidental with what is essential, and of supposing that tastes and habits of thought, which belong only to his own age and country, are inseparable from the nature of man.—Macaulay.

Straw as Food.
Both wheat and barley straw were used by the ancient Hebrews, chiefly as fodder for the horses, cattle and camels (Genesis 24:25; 1 Kings 4:22; Isaiah 11:7; 65:22). There is no indication that straw was used for litter.
