Players Help Stage Spectacular

It might be summer, but members of the Wayne Civic Players aren't spending their time at the beach.

The group has volunteered their services to help stage Wayne's historical pageant, "Salute to '69."

Leaving their usual duties as directors to the professionals, four Civic Players directors have taken technical responsibility for the spectacular.

Rosemary Moorehead is spectacle division chairman of the Centennial executive committee. Jacquie Guernsey handled the job of casting the show, while Lois Schafer is in charge of costumes and Bob Weibel is handling props.

Bob Schafer, Floyd Guernsey, Karen Gregory, Gladys McLaughlin, Riley and Glinnie Tadlock are appearing in principal roles.

Bob Wagner, Alan LaCroix, Lois Schafer and Jacquie Guernsey are furnishing voices for the actors on the field.

Keeping tabs on actors and their cues backstage will be Fred and Ann Button, Rob and Millie Roy, Loretta Wanger, Ruth Hansen and Laura Bartels.

Comic At Club

Harry Jarkey, one of the Detroit area's most popular comics, will continue his stay at the 24 Karat Club, through Saturday, Aug. 2.

IN FESTIVAL -- Susan Lathan, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lathan of 23350 Middle Belt, Farmington, appears as Flirt Daly in the American Drama Festival production of "A Trip to Chinatown" at Greenfield Village. She is shown here with Terry Baker in a scene from the 19th century musical. The apprentice player has also been cast in the production "Horizon," which opens this week. Louise DiVitto of 28090 Quail Hollow, Farmington, has also been cast in both productions.

Cultural Center Sets Open House

Detroit's Cultural Center will host an open house Saturday, Aug. 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in order to tell metropolitan area residents about its facilities.

The cultural center is located in the Woodward-Kirby area and includes the Detroit Art Institute, the Historical Museum, the Detroit Public Library, the Society of Arts and Crafts, the University Center for Adult Education, and the Cathedral Church of St. Paul.

Free tours of all institutions will be available and the mobile International Afro-American Museum will be parked at Kirby and Woodward as an added free feature.

Capping the day's events will be a free jazz concert by the 16-piece Austin-Moro Orchestra from 3 to 4 p.m. on the steps of the Art Institute.

Included in the day's programs will be films, organ recitals, outdoor exhibits, the Library's Funmobile, lectures and tours.

The open house is co-sponsored by the Mayor's Committee for the Cultural Center and the Cultural Center Association.

Written by Ralph Kelly of Plymouth, the play is entitled "For the Love of a Flea".

To Judge Amateurs

Two new competitions, Amateur Fine Arts and Sculpture, have been added to the Fine Arts Division of the Michigan State Fair.

E.J. (Jeff) Keirns, general manager, said that this is a first step in an effort to expand the Art Show at the Fair to display a broader cross-section of Michigan artists.

Now the amateur of "hobby" artist can enter his work and be judged accordingly. The person sending in his work must determine whether it is to be placed in the professional or amateur catagory.

The sculpture competition is divided into two classes; carving and molded. Any media such as clay, bronze, plastic etc is acceptable.

The State Fair opens Friday, Aug. 22, and continues through Labor Day, Sept. 1. Entry deadline is Aug. 1.

Singles Dance

The Pacesetters Club invites "singles and over 21" to a dance Friday, Aug. 1, from 9:30 to 12:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn, 11000 W. Eight Mile near Meyers. Live music will be featured.
