

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments, (Class 3), to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

APPEAL FOR STREET TREES

Los Angeles Newspaper Recognizes Their Value in Residential Streets of the Community.

Los Angeles is more in need of street trees than ever before, declared the Times of that city. We have lately annexed territory far more in need of shade trees than any other part of the city. There are miles of bare streets now, and as subdivision comes, which will be soon, there must be planted thousands of shade trees. This work should be done only under municipal control and the only debatable question is how.

In a city so large, having a magnificent park area, the park commission has all it may easily do in the proper development and maintenance of the parks. And it must not be supposed that the two lines are identical in their demands, in either theory or practice, or in necessary technical knowledge. These local problems, it would cause a division of interest, whereas the opposite should obtain. If one body controls the two, which shall be the tail and which the dog? Today a majority of the commission may favor planting our parks, and a little realize or recognize the necessity of desirability for street trees. In two years changes in the personnel might put the shoe on the other foot.

BRING SONGSTERS TO GARDEN

Artificial Birds Attract Them and Give Realistic Appearance to Flower Beds.

Birds are sociable creatures. If one is a pleasant spot and seems to stay around it, his presence will do more than anything else to attract others. For this reason the use of artificial birds in garden plots and flower beds.

Artificial Birds Mounted on Sticks Attract Other Birds to the Spot.

Artificial birds in garden plots and flower beds are a most effective way to attract other birds to the spot. The birds are mounted on stakes of varying heights so that they may be used in beds of dwarf plants or tall ones. The effect is very pleasing to the eye.—Popular Science Monthly.

Syracuse Aids in Good Work.
Syracuse is a community that has lately been the subject of a friendly, and moreover, is working at it. Syracuse university has a school of forestry, recently established, including the first definite course on street silviculture. By means of its extensive department it is helping in New York state in the shade-tree idea. The city has recently appointed a city forester, a graduate of that school—a good beginning. The next important step is that the city forester have extensive control of existing trees and power to set out new plantings. With proper appreciation of trees as a decorative factor and of the splendid possibilities of that city set in its seven hills, we may expect results if the municipal authorities will grant sufficient funds. At present they give about $7,000 per year for the maintenance of their 46,000 trees, which means about 15 cents per tree per annum. Much of this is spent in taking down dead trees. (The park department of the city of Paris pays $1.25 per tree per annum; the city of Newark, 50 cents.)

Feeling Better.
"Good morning!" was the salute of the doctor as he breezed into the patient's room. "Are you feeling better today?"
"Oh yes, doctor, much better," replied the smiling young man patient. "Our home town yesterday!"

Women Chimney Sweeps.
In Paris women have proved entirely efficient as chimney sweeps. They are said to ply their new roof trade as fearlessly as if they were born to it.

Poor Garden Building.
The most ridiculous results in garden building come from trying to cut vast (and pearly) grounds into something out of harmony with surroundings.

As to Formal Gardens.
Even out in the country formal gardens abound, and if the lay of the land does not agree it is cut and filled and bolstered up to suit, with generally unsatisfactory results.

PUT IT SQUARELY UP TO DAD

Young Son of Famous Member of "Vigilantes" Frankly Considered His Father a Slacker.

Ellis Parker Butler, the author, who lives at Flushing, and is devoting his energy to aiding in the successful prosecution of the war, does not bear an enviable reputation for patriotism in his own household. Mr. Butler has been writing for the Thrift and War stamps campaign.

Mr. Butler is the father of two sons of tender age. Several nights ago he returned home tired after a day's work for the Red Cross and took his seat at the head of the table. After they had finished their dinner, and started to get their Thrift stamps and started to get their Thrift stamps.

"Dad, look at all the stamps I have," said one of the youngsters. "I have 200. Look at brother's pile; he has more than I."

Mr. Butler nodded approvingly to Mrs. Butler and they both smiled. There was silence for a minute, then one of the twins looked up and exclaimed: "Dad, why don't you do something patriotic?"

SHET GOT COMPOSERS MIXED

Queen Victoria's Error Must Have Caused Mascagni to Pass an Uncomfortable Few Minutes.

Sometimes when a great personage essays musical criticism embarrassing errors arise. Once Queen Victoria invited Mascagni, the composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana" to play for her at Windsor castle. When the musician was at the piano her majesty said: "I am passionately fond of one of the numbers of your opera."

Mascagni played the Intermezzo. "No," said the queen, "that is not the melody I mean."

Mascagni played the Prelude. "That is not it either," she said, and hummed a few measures.

With increasing consternation Mascagni listened as the queen sang the Prologue to Leoncavallo's Pagliaccio. "I am sure," in talking the story, does the queen that she had made a mistake—Youth's Companion.

Limit in Snobbery.
"These society ladies who go about administering snubs and insults," the late Justice (Willing) once said at the Philadelphia club, "remind me of Greens."

"Greens ran a little grocery in South Eleventh street. He was tremendously proud of it, though it was in reality a wretched hole. He used to stride up and down in front of it all day with his nose in the air and his chest puffed out."

"An humble hodgepodge passing Greens once morning said affably: 'How are you, Mr. Greens? It looks as if it would have some rain, don't it?' 'We'll see,' snorted Greens. 'We'll see.' Since when, young man, have you and I been partners?"

Three Million Spangles in Flag.
A flag of extraordinary beauty, composed entirely of spangles, was recently displayed in a Chicago store window. The brilliant emblem, flashing back the light from innumerable points, extended almost the full width of the shop at the back of the display area. Three and one-half million of the tiny metal disks, strung on threads, were used in fashioning this flag.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Properly Indignant.

One of our neighbors was trying some of the late dance steps when his two small sons toddled out on to the door to join in the exercise. In mock anger he commanded:

"Get out of my way, boys! You can't dance!"

Little Melvin was much insulted, and after a moment's reflection indignantly exclaimed:

"Daddy, I guess you think my little kids is just bookheads!"—Exchange.

Danger.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out" unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bilious? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or cramps in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or kidney trouble, and that the poison in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal worms, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, but this be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.
