I. Joseph Discloses His identity to His Brethren (vx. 1,30).

Ile treated his brêthren harshly at first, his purpose being to ascertian as to whether they were the same cruel, heartless men as before, and to produce penitence in their hearts. They keenly felt their guilt and heartily repeated of their folly. Judan's pathetic appeal overcame his apparent harshness, causing him to disclose his identity, Being unable to restrain his peniture, and the produce peniture of the same cruel, the same cruel, the same cruel, the same cruel to he for Joseph troubled them; it aught to have made them flad. Their same presented it being a time of Joy for them. This most heautifully Histrates Christ's decoding with his brethren, the Jews. Juss'as they who had rejected him and sold him were compelled to come to him for aid, so when the great tribulation comes. Christ's brethren, the Jews. Will ery unto him for aid (Daniel 9 2:7; 12:1; Matthew 24:31; Zechariah 12:10-14). Joseph dealt jewercyl with his brethren to test them and bring them to repentance. So Christ will do with the Jews (Hosea 5:15; Ezcklef 22:19-22. As Joseph's love was behind his harsh exactines, so back of Christ's treatment of the Jews will the his great love for them.

It, Joseph's Efforts to Assuage the Grief of His Brethren (w. 4-8).
When Joseph's revealed himself to his brethren, the Jews, and be their shows that his desite was to put hele thoughts far away from their crum. He invited them to come near unto him, and assured them God had overruled their crime in sending him for their salvation. They meant it for evil, but it was part of God's plan for good. This shows that his desite was to put hele though him for she had been factor (Isaiah 11:10-16). Peter, on the day of Peatecosts showed that the Jews's treatment of Christ was such, and that God's overruling providence had turned it out for good. Just as Egypt was obliged to come to Joseph's for sustenance and become servants of Pharaoh through him (Issiah 12:4); 11:11. Jesains Juz-11:11. Jesains Juz-11:1

111. Joseph Sach His Brethren With Good News to his Father (vv. 9-15). As soon as Joseph's brethren knew him and were reconciled to him, they were sent with he glad tdings to their father. He assured them that he would boursh them and that they should be near him. They were directed to tell of his glory. Jacob would not have mourised the death of Joseph had he known of his glory. Honch would not have mourised the death of Joseph had he known of his glory. Honch would not have mourised the death of Joseph and he known of his glory. Honch would not have reconcillation and they were permitted to talk with him. Reconcillation precedes communion.

Faith Must Show Itself.

If the church is sait, then the church must be different from the world around it. If the church is light, then the church must be unlike those who have not committed themselves to the leadership of Christ. When Christians say the isame things which unbelievers any, and do the same things which scoffers id, they case to be a leavening force in society. If faith in Christ is to have any meaning, it must show itself in the creation of a new type of main! A Christian should have something in him not to be found in any other numban being. Unless he did not be the control of the disposition, aim and content of the disposition aim and content of the disposition in the sign of the content of the content of the disposition in the sign of the content of the co

Relief Not Burden.

A yoke is not n instrument of torture; it is, an instrument of mercy. It is not a malicious contrivance for making work hard; it is a gentle device to make hard inhor light. And yet men speak of the yoke of Christ as if it were a slavery, and look upon those who wen't as objects of compassion.

It is not from severity that God demands much from men to order to obtain knowledge of himselt; it is of his kindoes that he wills the soul by effort to grow, capacious of, receiving much that he may give much.—Melster Eckhart.

Abiding in God's Will.

The peace, freedom, and blessedness of all souts consists in their abiding in God's will. Towards this union with God for which it is created the soul utrives perpetually.—Melate Ecklus.
