

Farmington has proud past

Cont. from Page 32

more than three years after Arthur Power and his group cut the first trees for the first Farmington home, the township government began, with the first meeting conducted at the home of Robert Wixom.

Earlier in the year, the state legislature had laid out the present boundaries for Farmington Township, thereby separating it from Bloomfield Township.

THE LITTLE SETTLEMENT had come to be known as Quakertown (not to be confused with the present Quakertown in this area) but both Power and Dr. Webb suggested Farmington as a name to honor the founders' former home in New York.

According to early records, the small village developed along Shunwawee and centered at the road's intersection with Farmington Road. This "old city" area still exists today with several homes still standing, dating back to the 1840s.

After the 1840s, the village center shifted a bit south to Grand River and Farmington Road.

Grand River had become a main road between Detroit and the new state capital in Lansing.

The year 1850 brought the Fugitive Slave Act and Farmington's Quaker population, led by Nathan Power, quickly became associated with the anti-slavery movement and the Underground Railroad. The extent of their involvement is disputed by Leo Peet in his book.

After the Civil War, the people living in the square mile of territory along Grand River and Farmington Road voted to become a village. The village common council held its first meeting on May 9, 1867. The village became a city in 1926.

FOUNDERS SPECIALS

50% OFF

ENTIRE REMAINING
SUMMER STOCK

GIRLS • BOYS • TODDLERS • INFANTS
NOTHING HELD BACK!

BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIALS

BOYS' SCHOOL PANTS & JEANS
SLIMS & REGULARS

Reg. to 8.50 4.99

Reg. to 9.50 5.99

Girls Coats
& Jackets
Sizes 4-14

Early Bird Winter Sale

UP TO 20% OFF

Boys Jackets
Sizes 4-16
OFF

Richards
BOYS & GIRLS
Wear
SHOPPING CENTER

GRAND RIVER
& HALSTEAD
SHOPPING CENTER

Free

Join us during Founder's & we'll DIP YOUR CONE FREE!

We Carry
Gourmet Sundae Toppings
Peach Melba, Mocha, Blueberry in addition to our reg. Toppings.

We Carry:
• Weight Watchers
• Cones • Freezes
• Splits • Shakes
• Shakes • Sodas
• Cakes

THE MOUNTAIN FREEZE

29564 Orchard Lake Rd.
N. of 13 Mile, Farmington Hills

20% OFF
ANY CHARMGLOW BARBECUE!
For Charmpow B
See Your Dealer

SIDEWALK SALE
UP TO 50% OFF

20% OFF Weber
Charcoal Grills & Accessories

FARMINGTON
TrueValue
HARDWARE
33405 GRAND RIVER
474-1022