

All you can eat

For pancake lovers, Saturday is the big day at the festival. They can have hot-cakes for breakfast, lunch and dinner in the Masonic Temple on Ponniman Avenue. Members of the Plymouth (evening) Kiwanis Club cook and serve thousands of pancakes and sausages from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Longtime Kiwanian Chet Haynes flipped pancakes at last year's festival. Chairman Ron South says patrons can have all the pancakes they can eat. Tickets are $2 at the door or $1.75 before the festival from club members. (Staff photo)

Museum offers festival specials

The Plymouth Historical Museum will offer special exhibits and rates during all four days of the Plymouth Fall Festival.

The hours, during the festival only, will be:

- Thursday, Sept. 9— 14 p.m.
  - Friday, Sept. 10— 15 p.m.
  - Saturday, Sept. 11— 19 p.m.
  - Sunday, Sept. 12— 17 p.m.
- For the festival only, admission rates have been reduced: Family—$2; adults—75 cents; young adults (13-19 years), 40 cents; children (5-12) accompanied by an adult, 20 cents.

Besides the regular street of shops and permanent displays, there will be a special exhibition "Home Arts of the Nineteenth Century" during the festival. This will be in the members gallery on the lower level and will center around 18th and 19th century craft demonstrations.
