When Detroit bus driver Edward Carr found $708 in his bus, he turned the money in. His employers patted him on the back for his honesty, but he was harassed and ridiculed by his fellow workers.

Dick Purtan, the morning voice at WXYZ Radio in Southfield, read of the incident and decided Carr deserved something better.

It was his belief, Purian said, that in spite of the negative attitudes surrounding the Detroit area, the true personality of the city is generated by its citizens and Carr "stands out like a light."

Purian organized a dinner in honor of Carr and—on behalf of hundreds of local businessmen who donated merchandise to Carr and his family—presented him with more than $2,000 in gifts. The bandwiver was given a free trip to Montreal, a diamond pendant for Mrs. Carr, gift certificates from various clothiers, a weekend at the Hyatt-Regency Hotel in Dearborn, a

"Everyone came away from that banquet with a good feeling," Puritan said later, "because it's gratifying to see a nice guy finish first."

CHANNEL 58. WTVS-TV in Southfield takes a look at the complexities and problems of 21st century America in two specials Sept. 13

"The Selling of Abe Lincoln 1976," which will be seen at 6 p.m., resurrects America's 16th president to find out how he would conduct a television campaign. The award-winning special matches a reluctant Abe (played by Richard Blake) with a pushy, modern campaign manager (Mike Nussbaum) who feels Abe's homespun homilies would be ineffective even if conveyed into millions of homes via television.

The end result is a political commercial for the 1976 Lincoln campaign, complete with different versions for the North and South.

"Welfare," produced, directed and edited by Frederick Wiseman, was filmed at a New York welfare center.
