Language expert will speak at S-L

By JILL LUBLIN
Southfield-Lathrup Correspondent

Dr. Alice Taub of St. Louis University will discuss the practical reasons for enrolling in a foreign language class during an appearance at Southfield-Lathrup High School this week.

She will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 28, in the South Commons at the invitation of the school's foreign language department. Her appearance is the first of a number of informative activities planned for students and parents this school year by the language department.

Dr. Taub is expected to discuss the vocational opportunities involved with foreign language, including training and background required for foreign language occupations.

The superintendent of schools, all school administrators and counselors in the Southfield school system have been invited. The following colleges also have been invited: Wayne State University, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Eastern Michigan University, Western Michigan University, Oakland Community College, Oakland University, Marygrove College, University of Detroit, Mercy College, Madonna College, and Duns Scotus.

FRIDAY MORNING, Oct. 29, Dr. Taub will address students at Southfield-Lathrup during an assembley concerning the same topic.

The foreign language department has a number of other activities planned for the coming months. In December, there will be "Parent Hospitality Days," when parents will be invited for tea and or lunch and to sit in on foreign language classes during the afternoon.

In January, the school will host "College Evening," when parents and students may talk with former foreign language students. Administrative officials from University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and several Ivy League and other east coast colleges will be attending and available to talk to parents and students.

February is "Junior High Hospitality Days" when all foreign language students will be preparing an international breakfast for the junior high students who also will attend foreign language classes as observers.

The foreign language department has consolidated its three after-school foreign language clubs into one. The new International Club invites all full-time foreign language students to participate. Their activities include dining out at ethnic restaurants and participating in the Old World Festival at downtown Detroit in November.

Southfield Bar ranks circuit

Oakland County Circuit Court incumbent Judge Robert B. Webster received top rating in a judicial poll by members of the Southfield Bar Association.

Of four seats open for Oakland County Circuit Court in the Nov. 2 election, Webster led with a 94 per cent rating as qualified or preferred, said James M. Skillman, president of the association.

District Court Judge Alice Gilbert of Birmingham placed second with a qualified or preferred rating of 82 per cent.

For the two remaining seats, incumbent Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn and Royal Oak District Judge Francis X. O'Brien finished third and fourth with a qualified or preferred rating of 72 per cent and 68 per cent respectively.

The poll, which included candidates for Michigan Court of Appeals and Michigan Supreme Court, was taken the first week of October and represents only the preference of those who responded, Skillman said.

Bar members were asked to rate candidates as unknown (U), not qualified (NQ), qualified (Q) or preferred (P). Results are in alphabetical order.
