
Snake on the street

Ford's Cobra II has returned for 1977 with an expanded offering of colors. New combinations are white with red paint stripes and white with green. The popular black with wide gold paint stripes, blue with white stripes or white with blue are retained from last year. The Cobra II option is available only on the Mustang II 2+2.

Those 23 channels have a lot going for them

Hey there four-wheelers, heard about the switch to 40 channels?

It was a Christmas present to us from "Uncle Charlie" (Federal Communications Commission). Well, that addition of those 17 channels probably made you wonder what to do with your old 23-channel set. As a matter of fact, those 23-channel CB units are being offered through Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers.

The six Kraco under-the-dash CB units offered by Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers will include a base station, two models of conventional CB radios, and two models of AM single-sideband transceivers. All these units have the maximum legal output are of solid state constuction plus other safety features to protect the internal, external and rip-off problems which plague the CBer.

Each unit comes with instructions for the new user and a 90-day warranty for repair or replacement of defective parts.

By the way, about those new 40-channel sets . . . The Federal Trade Commision (Uncle Charlie's sister) is looking into those remanufacturing offers by some advertisers to change your new/old 23-channel set into a modern 40-channel unit. People need to ask a lot of questions before agreeing to the deal.

Some should be: Is there a time limit on the conversion order after the set is bought? How much will it cost? How long it will take and who will pay the mailing costs?

A good bet would be to get all this down in writing just to make sure.

By the way, those 23-channel sets are just fine for most of us, and we might be happy to stay with them as everyone tries to use channels 26 through 40.

Ten-four.

Who needs cords?

A cordless tire is in the works.

Firestone is conducting research on a tire made of liquid polyurethane and without cords. The biggest plus for this new kind of tire is that it can be manufactured faster with each tire being exactly alike. The tires can be produced with the use of highly automated systems—this would cut labor costs.

If you think this will make the tire cheaper you're wrong. The polyurethane used costs just about the same as the savings in labor and the capital investment in this drastic of a change would actually increase the price.

WHY PEOPLE WHO OWN A BMW ENJOY DRIVING MORE THAN YOU DO.

If there is one thing all BMW owners have in common, it is the unabashed enthusiasm each has for his car. An enthusiasm that, contrary to expectations, does not diminish as the years and miles roll by. What causes this rare relationship between man and machine is the caliber of the machine. Rather than a mere collection of gears, axles and random parts, a BMW is a finely tuned, evolutionary car. One so singularly enjoyable to drive that, in Germany, a land of legendary driving machines, BMW sells more high-performance cars than any other manufacturer. A surprising fact? Only to those who have never driven a BMW. If you are tired of owning conventional, boring transportation, call us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive of a BMW.
