QUIZ

How many models of automobiles have appeared since the turn of the century? How many are in production today? (Answers below)

Fearing theft, a Kansas City motorcycle owner parked his $400 machine inside his home, leaving a car and a heavy cigarette ash produced a $3000 blaze.

A recent poll shows a preference for the "no-fault" auto insurance plan which would allow you to sue without proving fault in an auto mishap. The insurance industry is studying the plan.

One way to keep the engine of an older car cool is to have it steam cleaned. Caked grease and dirt act as insulators for engine heat. The small cost will pay for itself in fuel economy and longer engine life.

There are many service tips you can employ to make car driving a pleasure. Come in and ask us! We'll gladly provide you with any advice and service you need at CRESTWOOD DODGE, 32859 Ford Rd., 4215700.

ANSWERS TO QUIZ: There have been 3000 makes of cars introduced since 1900. 200 of them are still in existence.

BIG HOLIDAY -- The crowd of more than 20,000 largest of the season, was in a betting mood Monday at the Detroit Race Course. This shows a small section of the fans in front of the grandstand rooting home a winner. The wagering was just short of $17 million, another high for the meeting.

IN THE POCKET

By W.W. EDGAR

Observerland's bowling army, more than 10,000 strong, will step to the firing line this week to usher in a new season and a bid for a share of state and national prize.

While the Classic and All-Star leagues will be the main event, the Detroit and Grand Rapids areas started firing a few days ago, the bulk of the leagues -- neighborhood, fraternal, club and club circuits -- will open the long grid Tuesday.

It is traditional to open a new season on the day after Labor Day. But because of the earlier dates of the national tournaments this year, the all-stars started earlier.

The Women's International Bowling Congress starts its event early in spring and the State Association does the same thing. So, the women's leagues in Observerland have set their schedules calling for a finish during the first week in May.

There is renewed interest this year in the race for the role of King and Queen of Bowling. Last year, one of several bowlers -- Ann Setlock and Mary Monaco -- were in the thick of a battle with Elvira Toepfer before losing out.

Elvira will be seeking her fifth "Queen" role in succession and her two most serious challengers again will be the Observerland women.

In the men's section Ted Baketelos, of Westland, who had the highest single league average in the area last year, will battle it out with Mike Trasky, the present "King" and Eddie Lubanski, former holder of the honor.

Highlighting the season in the area is another major classic. It is a 32-team circuit that opened at Garden Lane and bowls on Thursday evenings. The other large classics are back again with the Westland

GC East Has Quality, Short On Quantity

When it comes to quantity, the Garden City East High football team is lacking this fall. Coach Gary Humphreys has had only 25-30 players engaging in early workouts and he's hopeful a few more candidates will report now that classes have started up.

Fortunately, however, it's a different story when it comes to quality for East. There are nine seniors returning and Humphreys describes the group "as fine football players."

He adds that the upcoming junior crop is a good one. But what surprises Humphreys is that several members of last year's unbeaten JV team have passed up a chance to move up to the varsity.

"I GUESS the kids just have too many extra other things going," said Humphreys, "like working for their cars and insurance."

The veteran brigade at East includes the following up front: Ken Roe, an end; tackles Gary Lyman, Gary Wright and Rick Palmer, guards; George Bednerek and end Rick Orlando. Backs returning are Jerry Mason, a defensive specialist;

George Lellis at fullback and quarterback Randy Shaffer who wrote quite a story against Garden City West last season in the final game.

One major loss from last year is Jim Burton, a back who gained all-league and all-area honors. Burton was to have been a senior this year, but he dropped out of school and joined the marines.

SHAFER was moved into a starter's role for the finale and he picked up more than 125 yards and led East to victory.

"We think he'll be a good one," says Humphreys.
