UNSPOILED BY HIGH HONOR

Officers and Men Alike Recognize in General Pershing Qualities That Compel Their Affection.

"Why do we swear by Pershing?" countered a staff officer in Washington one day in response to a question. "Well, I guess it's because he's the real thing—a regular American, if you know what I mean."

"You can easily figure out the sort of man he is by the stories they tell of him. I was with him when he was on his way to Washington to receive his orders for France. On the way, we passed through the town in which he lived when he was a boy. On the station platform was the same old grog porter Pershing had thrown stones at in his boyhood. The general chatted with the old man. Afterward I asked the porter what happened. He said:

"He done wanted to know all 'bout the folks he uster know, an' when he was gettin' on the cat again he picked up a pebble as big as his thumb an' bore it at me. Jes like he uster when he was an orrery kid."

Can't Withdraw U. S. Court Case.

Washington—The common law rule that either party to an arbitration agreement may withdraw at his pleasure is not applicable to industrial controversies, the War Labor Board ruled in refusing to grant the Akin-Erskine Milling Co., of Evansville, Ind., the privilege of withdrawing a labor dispute from the board's consideration. The effect of the decision is that employers and workers having made a "joint" submission to the board, must await its award.

WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Prima Donna Had Good Business Reasons for Asking for Slight Change in Contract.

Senator Lodge sounded the warning that the articles of the league of nations should be weighed carefully before being adopted. He asserted that too many ties might well jeopardize our future.

"Indeed," we may well follow the example of the prima donna who was reading a rough draft of her new contract.

"When she came to the paragraph providing that she should have transportation for herself, her maid, her dog and Sig. Gazbini, her husband, she drew a line through the signor's name."

"Just make that husband," she said. "Yes, madam," assented the manager, "but may I ask why?"

"The diva blushed and coyly fingered her hair. 'I might wish to make a change,' she answered."

Needless Alarm.

Junior had not been in the best of health, and when he seemed well on the way to recovery, his mother took extra precautions to guard him against possibilities of an influenza attack.

One evening the anxious mother was startled when she entered Junior's room to find the little chap in bed, sniffling with red eyes and watery.

"Goodness, gracious!" she cried. "do you feel sick, dearie?"

"No, mamma," Junior replied.

"But you seem to have caught a dreadful cold."

"I haven't any cold."

"But your nose and your eyes?"

"From under the covers Junior produced a book."

"It is 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' mamma," he said, "and I have just been reading about poor little Ernie."

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be seeking relief for kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Need of a Cash Register.

Mr. M.—is not always as regular in his accounts as he might be. In spite of that, however, he was recently elected to carry the contribution basket at his church. But there was much opposition, particularly from the men, who had known him to juggle various other accounts over which he had had charge. Finally the preacher voiced his objection in this way: "I don't think we'd better let him carry that basket unless we have a cash register attached to it."

One man with an idea is worth 40 men in an old rut.

Out of Order.

The village was all agog. Flossie Flatfoot was marrying William Giles. The church was crowded. Flossie, looking as pale as her somewhat highly colored countenance would allow, bore up until the plain band ring was safely on her finger, and then, ever-come, thrust into tears.

The villagers were touched, but not anxious. All this cry at weddings. Then suddenly William Giles screwed up his face and broke into howls. Tears poured down his face and dripped off his whiskers.

"What's up? Hush, man!" those nearest him urged. But Giles continued to howl, and at last burst out: "Let me bet I feel wuss 'n' 'er about it!"—London Tit-Bits.

Who Blushed Then?

A pretty young teacher was once placed in charge of a class of boys and she asked them what they would like to be when grown up.

"They all had very high notions, one was to be an actor, one a sailor, one a lorry driver and another a cowboy. Presently it came to a pretty fair-haired boy, who states his wish."

"What would you like to be?" said the teacher.

Jackie blushed deeply and looked shy and afraid.

"Come, tell me your wish, Jackie, please," said the teacher.

"Please—er—please, my wisher-is to be your husband!" he blurted out.—London Answers.

She Knew.

An Evansville mother and her two children were visiting her sister's home for the evening, says the Indianapolis Star. The grown niece, who was fond of the children, fed them candy. All at once she turned from the children to offer her young aunt some gum. "No, I don't believe I care for any," she returned.

"Niece, the seven-year-old cousin, spoke up."

"Yes, you do, mother," she piped. "You know you always beg us children for some of 'em—on the way home, you have 'em every time we come."

Aerial Hunt for Whales.

With his airplane equipped with a machine gun, an army lieutenant recently went out on a whale-hunting expedition. Flying at an altitude of about a thousand feet above the Pacific ocean, the airman saw his quarry about four miles out at sea, and swooped down before the great animal could submerge. A short round from the machine gun was sufficient and a motorboat was soon on its way to pick up the carcass, which yielded the hunter a considerable profit.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WAS IN MISERY

Mrs. Jobes Was in Serious Condition From Dropsy. Doan's Made Her Well.

"I don't think many have gone through such misery as I," says Mrs. C. Jobes, 130 Federal St., Burlington, N. J. "That awful pain in my back felt as though my spine were crushed. My head ached and I had feeling and fulling sensations when everything would turn black. Though the kidney secretions passed ten or fifteen times in an hour, only a few drops came at a time and they felt like boiling oil. I soon found I had dropsy. I bloated all over. My face was so swollen I could hardly see any of my eyes. My ankles and feet felt as though they would burst if I put any weight on them. My night clothes became wringing wet with sweat and I would get chilly and shake all over. Doan's Kidney Pills soon had me feeling like a different woman. My kidneys were regulated and all the swelling went away. The aches and pains left me and after I had finished my eighth box of Doan's, I was as well as ever. My kidneys have never bothered me since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. Subscribed and return to before me."
