SALVATION ARMY NEEDS

Annual Budget Shows Reasons for $13,000,000 Drive.

Vast Activities Conducted by 1,000 Corps in United States—Futures Plans.

New York (Special)—The annual budget of the Salvation Army, containing a detailed and comprehensive statement of the cost of maintaining its various activities throughout the United States, has been issued from National Headquarters, 122 West Fourteenth Street. The statistics show why it is necessary for the Salvation Army to go before the American people in the month of May 19 to 26 and ask them to contribute $13,000,000 to its Home Service Fund.

There are 938 corps and outposts of the Salvation Army in the United States. The cost of maintaining these is $2,685,000. The maximum income which these corps may expect from collections in meetings, contributions of members and other outside contributions is $715,000, making the net total cost of supporting the corps $1,970,000.

The cost of maintaining divisional and provincial headquarters, which supervise the work of the local corps, will be, according to the budget, $530,000.

Besides the work of supervising the local headquarters, the provincial and divisional headquarters are in charge of several of the Salvation Army's largest activities, including the operation of fresh air camps for children, relief and employment bureaus and the provincial bands.

Under the heading of "national and territorial obligations" the Salvation Army includes the expenses of maintaining what are among its best known institutions, those which may be grouped under the general name of "social work." For this purpose the Army wants $1,270,000.

The pension fund budget is $400,000. The Salvation Army has determined on the erection of many new buildings for social work in the future. The building program will require expenditures of $1,875,000.

The remainder of the amount sought for the Home Service Fund is for corps, divisional and provincial buildings and a small contingent fund.

Details of the Salvation Army's activities in the United States for the last year show how remarkable is the scope of the Army's endeavors and what vast numbers of people it serves. For instance, the Army maintains seventy-five hotels for men and women. Last year 1,456,728 persons found sleeping accommodations in these. Beds were supplied for 127,880 children in the Army's four children's homes in the same period, while 48,000 children were sheltered in the slum galleries. In the industrial homes beds were supplied for 1,742,815. In the nurses homes and maternity hospitals 1,869 girls went under the care of the Army last year.

The Army has 2,918 officers and cadets in the United States. Last year there were over 24,000,000 persons
