Ain't It So?

"Speaking of musical instruments," remarked the questioner, "there's no music as lively to the ears as the 'bushtun' that is heard in 'Tape' played on his cash register."—Indianapolis Star.

Law and the Successful Life.

There is something terrible in the habit of seeking after a law which we may obey. We may study the law of matter and for our convenience, but a successful life knows no law.—Thorpe.

Stains on Photos After Fixing.

The brown or yellow stains which are sometimes found on photographic prints after being taken out of the fixing bath can be prevented by using a solution of water in the water in which the prints are washed after being developed.

Common Gain.

The cause of freedom is identified with the desires of humanity, and to change part of the world it gains ground by itself. It will be a common gain to all those who desire it.—Kinsch.

The Sayings of Shinbone.

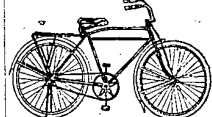

"Ah don't he'll Brudster Jones pray in 'uk' right to be delivered from his 'upstun' sin," remarked Shinbone. "Ah ev'rythin be 'maw' has referred to the sin of 'upstun'."—Boston Transcript.

Joan Chinaman.

As far as can be learned, the earliest use of the nickname John Chinaman as a designation for residents in "a letter to the committee of management of Henry Lane theater," published in London just 100 years ago.

A Windfall.

The origin of the word "windfall" in the sense of "good luck," dates from the time of William the Conqueror. It was then a criminal offense to cut timber in the forests. Only such could be gathered as the wind had blown down; hence, a heavy rainstorm was hailed by the peasants as a much good luck, and from thence the modern application of the expression.
