

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that come in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleaning the medicine is performed and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only a few cents

Magic! Just drop a little Frezzone on that tough corn, instantly it softens, then, you lift the corn off, with the fingers. Truly! No humping! Try Frezzone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid you of that "white" hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Frezzone is the discovery of a noted Cincinnati genius.

General Pershing's War Map.

In installing General Pershing's war map in the old National Museum building in Washington, the commander's room at the front just as it looked when the map was in actual use, is being reproduced as a setting. Here will be the chairs used by the general and his aids while they studied the map, which changed hourly, night and day, as reports came in and were recorded. The table at which the officers looked over documents will stand as it used to be, and the walls will be covered with the identical lineament that was a background for the map. The map was brought over in pieces and joined together, and the original sketches of the "lineament" is said to have been done in the room in which General Pershing switched history writing itself in a very literal sense on the wall.

A Fair Proposition.

"Mr. Gratch, I've saved up $3,000 and I want to marry your daughter."
"Do you realize that $3,000 won't last long nowadays?"
"Oh, yes, sir. But it ought to take care of us for at least six months and at the end of that time if I haven't convinced you that I'm an ideal son-in-law you needn't do a thing for us."
"As we have to live with ourselves we should see to it that we always have good company."

Author Handwriting.

If readers and admirers of the polished sentences of popular authors could see the original manuscripts from which their works are printed they would be given interesting glimpses into the character and personality of the writers. The handwriting of G. K. Chesterton has been described by an English author as "shocking." W. J. Jacobs, comedy writer of the scene, said of his handwriting: "I wish I could make but few corrections on the finished manuscript. Other English writers whose copy is reputed to be neat and quite acceptable to a printer are H. G. Wells, Richard Kilgus, Arnold Bennett, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Editors say they never know what to expect from that impetuous genius, H. de Vere Sturges. Sometimes his work is neatly typed on sheet paper, but often it scribbles into sheets torn from a copybook.

"Oh—your father."
"Oh, did you? So did I." Boston Transcript.

TREND SEEMS TO BE TOWARD MOTORIZED FARMS, ELIMINATING ALL HORSE POWER

Plowing With a Small Tractor.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Manufacture of tractors for agricultural use has grown greatly in a comparatively few years, but a big field is still open to manufacturers in the small farmers' business, which can be gained only by the introduction of all-purpose tractors that can be used economically on farms of under 100 tillable acres.

Prior to 1905 practically all power plowing was done by steam. If there was any machine in use at that time employing an internal-combustion engine as its source of power, the case apparently has never become a matter of record. Steam plowing has been in vogue for a number of years, especially in regions such as the Dakotas, Montana, and the Canadian provinces of the Northwest. Here were found bonanza farms consisting of thousands of acres, one crop of wheat sometimes paying for the entire farm. These large tracts, stretching away for miles in a level and unbroken plain, offered conditions which were suitable for steam plowing. The steam outfits weighed many tons.

Several factors had a bearing on the elimination of steam as a source of power for plowing and the substitution of the internal-combustion engine.

The fuel was bulky for the power transmitted, and the storage space on the engine was small. Several men were required. The steam engine as then constructed could not stand the constant strain and rough usage necessary in plowing. It was necessary to spend considerable time in care and repair, which is as indicated by the rail 1912, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929,
