CULL FLOCKS CAN POULTRY

Housewives Advised to Make Double Saving.

Many Michigan housewives are making a double saving this fall by culling the non-producers from their poultry flocks, and then canning the discarded birds for a winter meat supply. Home canning of poultry is entirely practical and is being practiced more and more by farm women of the state. By putting up their own chickens these women are assured a supply of meat which has been raised in the proper way and canned under sanitary conditions. They avoid the danger of getting hold of very old birds on the markets, or of birds that have been killed too long or kept under unsanitary conditions.

Canning of poultry is not radically different from the canning of fruits or vegetables, the same general principles being followed. Among the general rules, however, are these: Birds should be killed and dressed the same day of canning; they should be stung, washed, cut up, and cooled as for table use; new rubbers should always be used; covers should be fitted and tested; the time of sterilization is important and should not be shortened a minute (count time after water around the cans begins to boil). The length of sterilization varies from 1 1/2 to 3 hours, according to the method used.

Detailed information on canning poultry may be had by writing to the Home Demonstration Agent, Extension Division, M. A. C., East Lansing, Michigan.

From All Over.
 According to government reports there is an estimated crop of 28 million bushels of potatoes in Michigan this fall. This yield is said never to have been exceeded but once.

George Leet was drawn as extra juror for this term of the circuit court from Farmington. Bert Welfare is serving from Novi. The September term has already had two panels of jurors.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the First Commercial and the Pontiac Savings banks on October 15th a vote will be taken on the consolidation of the two banks in one big financial institution.

The annual teachers institute for Oakland county will be held in the auditorium of the Pontiac High School next Friday, October 10th, and every teacher in the county is urged to attend. Every teacher in the county is entitled to close school for that day and draw full pay, if they attend the institute.

Hunters and trappers of weasels, woodchucks, crows, owls, hawks and house rats are now saved the trouble of taking evidence of their success to the county clerk. The law which went into effect August 14th permits township clerks to receive the legends and give orders on the county for the money. The new bounty on weasels, woodchucks, owls, and hawks is 50 cents, and the bounty on house rats has been doubled, and will now be ten cents each.

NIGHT AND DAY CAMP IS LIFE SAVING STATION

Tuberculosis kills 150,000 persons in the United States every year. These two women escaped. They are shown in the Night and Day Camp conducted by the St. Louis Society for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis. They are among the fortunate ones because they knew how to take care of themselves when this great menace threatened them. They knew that the cure lies in plenty of fresh air, even if the temperature is away below freezing, sunlight, good food and rest under proper medical supervision. Tuberculosis is not only curable but is preventable as well.

The prevention lies largely in right living, in building up a strong bodily resistance. Eight out of ten persons are infected at some time in their lives according to figures of the National Tuberculosis Association, the leading agency in the United States in the fight upon this disease. This organization is sponsor for the annual Red Cross Christmas Seal sale, from which the funds to carry on the work throughout the year are chiefly derived.

RURALITES HAVE BIG HEALTH ADVANTAGE

Abundance of Fresh Air and Sunlight Do Much to Check Ravages of Tuberculosis.

DANGER IN CLOSED WINDOWS.
 National Tuberculosis Association, Which Sponsors the Annual Sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, Reports 150,000 Deaths Each Year From the Disease.

People who live in the smaller towns and on farms have a great health advantage over the city dwellers in that they have ever an abundant supply of fresh air and sunlight.

These two gifts of nature, so lavishly bestowed, are not always appreciated to their fullest extent. They see two of the strongest weapons against the menace of tuberculosis, or consumption, as it is sometimes called. But consumption is not unknown in the rural districts. The death rate is sometimes as great in these places as in the more crowded localities, chiefly because of carelessness or indifference to laws of health.

Few, indeed, are the farm houses or the homes in the smaller cities and villages that cannot have an court or sleeping porch. On the contrary, we often find that the windows of sleeping rooms in the home are shut tight in the mistaken belief that night air is harmful.

This gives the way for disease, especially tuberculosis, which generally attacks the lungs.

White Plague Kills 150,000 a Year.
 The white plague claimed 150,000 lives last year in the United States. More than 1,000,000 Americans are suffering from it today. These figures are compiled from reports of experts all over the country and sent to the National Tuberculosis Association, the leading agency in the country to combat this disease. This organization is sponsor for the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale, from which its financial support is chiefly derived.

As medical science has proved consumption is both preventable and curable, the suffering caused by this disease is largely unnecessary. Most tuberculosis victims are between the ages of eighteen and forty-five.

Causes Half Billion Loss Annually.
 These are the years when people are most active, the years of their greatest production. The shutting out of these lives just when they are at the height of their usefulness means an annual loss to the country of nearly half a billion dollars.

Fresh air is the cheapest of medicine. Outdoor sleeping porches are not only for the sick. They help well folks to keep well, and the country dweller can have this aid to health by using at less inconvenience than his city neighbor.

FACTS ON THE ARCH ENEMY OF HUMANITY.

Tuberculosis kills producers—chiefly men and women between the ages of 18 and 35.

It claims workers—active men and women in the homes, the office and the shop.

It causes 150,000 deaths in the United States every year.

It costs the United States in economic waste alone about $500,000,000 annually.

More than 1,000,000 persons in this country are suffering from active tuberculosis right now.

It menaces every community, every home and every individual.

AND YET TUBERCULOSIS IS CURABLE AND PREVENTABLE.

It is spread largely by ignorance, carelessness and neglect.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,000 affiliated state and local organizations wage a continuous winning war on tuberculosis.

The work of these organizations is financed chiefly by the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

Drive the menace of tuberculosis from your door.

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.
 The National Tuberculosis Association has launched an extensive educational campaign. A recent health survey revealed a yearly death rate in the United States of 150,000 and there are today 1,000,000 active cases.

THE SYMBOL OF HOPE.

This is the emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association which annually sponsors the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals.
