

6 scouts earn Eagle rank

Farmington area's newest Eagle Scouts are Douglas Rapp, William Somerville, Thomas Mayer, Barry Robbins, Calvin Weaver and Carl Gunderson.

The six young men earned scouting's highest rank while members of Troop 263, which has had 43 Eagle Scouts since the troop's began in the mid '60s. The troop is led by scoutmaster Bob Brewer. Chairman of the troop is Jerry Schafer.

RAPP is an honor roll student at O. E. Dunckel Junior High School where he is involved in intramural basketball, varsity track and cross country. He was a first place winner in the school's science fair and a special awards winner in the city-wide science competition in 1977. His community service project, necessary to achieve the Eagle rank, was completed in Farmington Community Center.

SOMERVILLE is 14 years old and active in swimming, skiing, camping, hiking and golf. The Dunckel Junior High School student completed his community service project in Farmington Community Library.

MAYER plays drums and sings in the choir at Dunckel Junior High School. He is a member of the track team, enjoys tennis, racquet ball, handball, basketball, skiing and golf. His service project was completed by working with Bucket Brigade where he assisted youngsters with learning disabilities and helped teach adults how to use teaching aids for these children.

ROBBINS is an A student at Dunckel Junior High where he is on the varsity basketball team. Landscaping the grounds at Hope Lutheran Church completed his community service project.

WEAVER has been an honor student since seventh grade and is now in tenth grade at Southfield High School. His interests include downhill and cross-country skiing, camping, backpacking and canoeing. He constructed a display case for the troop to complete his service project.

GUNDERSON is 15 years old and an honor student at Dunckel Junior High. He is a member of Stingray Swim Team, and active in skiing and backpacking. Renovating children's playground equipment for United Orchard Methodist Church completed his service project.

Symphony women prepare for spring lunch and music

The Scandinavian Symphony Women Organization's April calendar calls for an artist luncheon honoring Nancy Sue Whitson, followed by "Ballet Extravaganza." Ms. Whitson, of Birmingham, is director of the Classical Arts Ballet Company, featured in the symphony's next concert.

The two events follow tradition of the woman's group which honors the guest artist who is performing with the symphony at a luncheon the day before the concert. The lunch is always open to guests.

phony members and their performing artists.

During the afterglow at the March concert, the guests celebrated Conductor Valter Poole's birthday, which followed a surprise rendition of the happy birthday song played by the symphony.

THE SCANDINAVIAN Symphony Society is the longest-standing ethnic society of its kind, now into its 48th consecutive season in Michigan. Current president of the society of Donald Strom, of Southfield.

The women's organization, which promotes the symphony and helps with fund-raising, is headed by Mrs. Ralph A. MacMullan, of Beverly Hills. Membership inquiries will be taken by calling Mrs. MacMullan, at 646-6079.

Lady Liberty

French sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi used two models in designing the Statue of Liberty. The face was modeled after his mother, with his mistress providing the inspiration for the rest.

The luncheon in Ms. Whitson's honor is set for April 28 in Stouffer's Restaurant in Southfield.

The concert, on April 29, will be given in Southfield High School when guests are invited to meet the sym-
