

International dinner, sale, keep troop busy

Mexican, German, Italian, and soul foods were served out for parents and guests of Troop 179 when the Boy Scouts held their annual International Dinner. The dinner is now a tradition for the scouts who meet in Central Church of Christ with Scoutmaster Ken Milliken.

The troop's spring fertilizer sale, which has also become a tradition in the area, was interrupted for time-out to concoct dishes such as black-eyed peas, Mexican wedding cookies, herringstipchen salad and torte zabalone.

The purpose of the dinner, which is unique to Troop 179, is to promote scouting as an international movement, and in turn foster international understanding.

The menu planning, food purchases, preparation, and service were conducted by the scouts.

THE BULK of the troop's funds come from its fertilizer sale which runs through March and April and is coordinated by Douglas Madaleno. Telephone orders will be taken at 478-5856.

Scouts end the spring season by participating in the Memorial Day Parade, after which they spend a week at Camp Frontier, Pioneer Scout Reservation, in Pioneer, O.

Miss Markovich named DAR's 'Good Citizen'

Julie Markovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Markovich, 3015 Thirteen Mile, Farmington Hills, was awarded the DAR Good Citizen Award this month, at a luncheon given in the Farmington Hills home of Mrs. Bruce Robinson.

The award is given each year by the Quakerstown Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to a senior girl from Harrison High School.

Miss Markovich was chosen for the award, based on dependability, leadership, service and patriotism.

She is president of the honor society in the school, president of the school choir, president of the German Club, and holds state honors.

She plays clarinet in Harrison Marching Band and symphony orchestra, and has been a member of the choir for three years. She has taught Sunday School in Kirk in the Hills Church.

The young miss will be touring Europe this year with Musical Youth International. She is employed at Old Orchard Theatre and does volunteer work at Beaumont Hospital. She expects to attend University of Michigan Nursing School.
