See-through cosmetics make up spring faces

Ambiance is ... being over 50 but looking 30. "Makeup is aging," warns Irma Shorell.

world famous skin-care authority. Miss Shorell cannot remember when she was not interested in beauty. Aside from the normal interest of a young attractive girl in making the best of her looks, Miss Shorell was surrounded in her childhood and teens with talk of beauty and with beautiful and attractive women because her father was a well-known cosmetic plastic surgeon.

Almost by osmosis Miss Shorell learned of the ingredients used by doctors and beauty authorities over the years in balms for the care of the skin. She has tried most of them on herself and selected the most effective to go into her own skin-care products.

One of the first things you notice about Irma Shorell is her amazingly youthful appearance (she admits to over 50, but looks no more than 30) and the fact that she wears hardly any makeup aside from lip color and eyeliner, her lovely skin is bare to the world.

"I used to wear base powder, shadow and all the rest when I was a young actress and wanted to look older."

Keep your look light and bright for spring. Avoid cakey foundations and hard lines.

Spring Transitions

Just like Spring, Jonathon's comes alive with a fresh new look...catering exclusively to the tastes of the adult male. Names take on new flair: Pierre Cardin, Nino Cerruti, Petrocchi, Louis Roth and Andre Martin just to name a few. Selections, too, become more varied: suits, sportcoats, slacks, shirts and furnishings. Jonathon's doesn't feature boys' clothing any longer, but we still think young. We're not new, we're better!
