'Pompous' show-goers get new coloring book

A new coloring and story book called "Pompous Digs Ecology" will be given to youngsters who see "Professor Pompos Digs Ecology" in Farmington Community Center Saturday.

The show, staged by Whistle Stop Theatre, for children, will be presented at 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

The book was written by Taffy Jones, founder of Whistle Stop Theatre, and sponsored by East Michigan Environmental Action Council, The American Lung Association of Southeast Michigan, the youth education committee of The Detroit Audubon Society, St. Dunstan's Theater and many local businesses.

"Professor Pompos Digs Ecology," follows "Professor Pompos in the Potato Patch," which was shown to Farmington area youth in the center last season. It is an original musical, written by Ms. Jones, with music by Brenda McDonald.

New new Pompous show has already whistle-stopped at the Birmingham Community House, St. Dunstan's Theater at Cranbrook, and a number of elementary schools and hospitals. It was also shown on the Daedalus Show over WXYZ Channel 7.

Tickets are $1.25 each, and must be reserved in advance, by calling the center, 477-8494.
