

Nazis boast suburban support

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI

Secret suburban support for the Nazis. The Nazis say so. So does the coalition which is protesting the opening of a new National Socialist bookstore in northwest Detroit's Brightmoor area. "We have reports that they've been operating secretly in Livonia," says Paul Bodin, chairman of the Labor, Community, Inter-faith Council Against Nazis. The coalition also protested the Nazis' first bookstore on W. Vernor in southwest Detroit.

A NAZI WHO calls himself Mark, one of three who stayed at the new bookstore through a weekend of protesting and rock-throwing, said they were receiving some "moral and financial support" from suburban residents. He would not elaborate, however.

As an example of the extent of suburban support, he told of a recent Nazi excursion to Cincinnati, Ohio. He said 30 Nazis and supporters made the trip to support Nazi activity there.

Of the 30, half were suburban residents, Mark said.

two days at the new location, the Nazis took five membership applications. Three were from Detroiters and two from Mt. Clemens men.

A SUBURBAN BRANCH is a possibility, as well, he said. "There are a lot of people in Dearborn who are upset about blacks moving in," Mark said.

He tempered his predictions, saying the suburbs would probably react just as Detroit neighborhoods had reacted—with pickets, protests and legal action.

"Of course, they'd want to keep their image up," he said. "They keep accusing us of ruining their neighborhoods."

THE NEW BOOKSTORE opened May 20 in a neighborhood which one Detroit policeman described as the "Appalachia of Detroit." It is on Penkell (Five Mile) near Burt Road.

Since the opening, Detroit Police have stood guard around the bookstore. In an attempt to prevent the rock and bottle throwing disturbances which erupted Sunday, they keep sweeping the area free of the crowds of gawkers which congregate across the street from the store.

There have been official protests by the Council Against Nazis and agitated Brightmoor residents. Many of the "official" protesters have been between the ages of 8 and 15, by most police estimates.

Police say the residents are protesting because it's something to do and not something that they oppose.
