

To show work

Local artists sought

Local artists and craftsmen are invited to exhibit and sell their work at Seaholm High School Friday, Dec. 8, from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Seaholm Commons.

The free exhibit and sale by high school art students, faculty and community artists is a benefit for the school scholarship fund. Forty percent of all profits will be donated to the scholarship fund. Some pieces may be displayed on a "not for sale" basis.

Each artist is requested to have some display equipment, although some display board will be available if necessary.

Those interested in displaying work in the show and sale should contact the high school office, 642-2872, or Bill Tall, head of the art department at 642-1839. Work will be accepted through Thursday, Dec. 7.

This is the first time that an exhibit of this scope has been held at the school. Media included will be paintings, prints, photography, sculpture, jewelry, weaving and crafts such as Christmas decorations.

Biting comedy

"The Skin of Our Teeth," a comedy by Thornton Wilder, features Dike and Dee Dweley of Bloomfield Hills as Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus at Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre. The Pulitzer prize-winning play laughs at disaster, as the Antrobus family stumbles through a thousand calamities by the skin of their teeth. Directed by Celia Merrill Turner, "The Skin of Our Teeth" will play Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. For information, call 644-4418.

Santa show slated

The Christmas season starts for children at The Community House in Birmingham on Saturday, Dec. 9, when a specially planned live stage show will be offered for the younger set. "Journey Through Santaland" will be presented by Birmingham Newcomer's Drama Group at two separate performances: 1-2 p.m. and again from 3-4 p.m. The hour-long show is a colorful, original musical calculated to nurture the children's imagination. Adult chaperones will be in attendance at all times. Tickets are available in advance at The Community House (Bates and Townsend in Birmingham), as well as at the door.

Written and directed by Susan Heneks with musical arrangements by Lesley Thomas, the play deals with the problem of children outgrowing Christmas, prompting a journey to Santaland guided by three whimsical elves.

Beautifully costumed with imaginative staging, "Journey Through Santaland" promises to delight the eyes and hearts of children at this festive time of the year.

For further information, call The Community House, 644-8832.

OU musicians to perform 'Suite for Pops' concerts

The Oakland University Dance Theatre and Afram Jazz Ensemble will perform Thad Jones' "Suite for Pops" on Dec. 8, 9 and 10 in the Studio Theatre of Varner Hall.

"Suite for Pops" was composed by Jones as a tribute to the late jazz artist Louis "Pops" Armstrong. The Dec. 8-9 performances are at 8 p.m. with a 3 p.m. matinee on Dec. 10. Tickets are $3 and $2. For information call 377-2300.

Choreographers are Carl Habsted, director of the OU dance program, and director Jill Johnson and dancer/instructor Mari Winsor.

In addition to the student dancers three OU alumni will join the company for the concerts. They are Adrian Mangault of the Hartinger Dance Company, Lee Seaton of Troy and Gary Ed Mack, a performer with Henry K. Murten and Other Things and Company.

Music will be performed by the Afram Jazz Ensemble, a 22-piece group under the direction of Marvin "Doc" Holladay. Holladay, director of the OU jazz program, is a musician with more than 20 years of professional jazz experience.

Sacred Heart sets concerts

Sacred Heart Seminary College will hold its annual Christmas concert Saturday, Dec. 9, and Sunday, Dec. 10.

The concerts will begin at 8 p.m. in the Seminary's chapel. The concert will present secular and religious music, contemporary and old favorites.

Sacred Heart Seminary is at 2701 Chicago Blvd., Detroit. There is ample parking in the campus lots.
