

EXHIBITIONS

SATURDAY, DEC. 16

Sheldon Ross Gallery—Exhibition of watercolors and collages by Romare Bearden will run through Jan. 13. Bearden is highly respected for his dramatic, often daring, artistic commentaries of black culture, both in this country and Africa. The gallery, 250 Martin, Birmingham, is open 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Panache Gallery—This Franklin Village gallery specializes in Art Nouveau and Art Deco. The inventory of art glass and other period art changes frequently. Special opening Dec. 16, 5 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 17, noon to 5 p.m., to show new acquisitions, 3251 Franklin Road, Franklin. Regular hours are 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Saturday.

CONTINUING SHOWS

Galerie de Bolcoeur—"Folk Art of Christmas" will be featured during December at 340 Grand River East, Harmonic Park, Detroit. Mrs. Boicourt, who has an office in Birmingham and a gallery in Harbor Springs, will show Christmas ornaments and creches, wall hangings, primitive paintings, sculpture, books and jewelry in this special holiday presentation in the former Adler Schmeel location. Other local artists will be exhibiting their works.

Troy Public Library—Troy artists Mary Bronersky and Mary Kora will have an exhibit of their oil paintings at the library through this month. The exhibit is open during regular library hours Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum—Ten Cranbrook Academy of Art degree candidates are showing their work in the museum through Dec. 22. Drawings and prints by David Hockney will be on display through Jan. 14. Although Hockney's subjects are traditional, his treatment is inventive. Museum hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Saturday. Admission is $1.50 weekdays, by donation weekdays, 500 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

Ed Gray Gallery—Christmas exhibition continues through Dec. 24. Included are: Carol Cutura, photography; Stan Dudek, watercolors; Michael Duvall, porcelain; Marie Ferris, soft sculpture; Ed Gray, sculpture and fountain; Nuba Habib, oils and watercolors; Anna Marie Karlsen, paper and lithos; Julie Shaw, gold and silver jewelry; and Blake Simmons, photography. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, 280 N. Woodward, Birmingham—Great American Building lower level.

Jewish Community Center—First Invitational Show continues through Dec. 17. Some of the most respected artists in the metropolitan area are represented in this show which includes ceramics, sculpture, painting, printmaking and calligraphy. It's worth more than a casual run through. The center is at 6600 W. Maple, West Bloomfield.

Gallery 22—New paintings, graphics, weavings, sculpture and ceramics by 40 gallery artists will be on display through December. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 22 E. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills.

Donald Morris Gallery—Small bronze by Clement Meadmore will be on display through Jan. 6. The 15 pieces in this exhibit differ from the sculptor's usual mammoth outdoor, corten steel pieces. Gallery hours are 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., 185 Townsend, Birmingham.

Rubner Gallery—Exhibition of paintings by Maryann Harman will continue through Jan. 6. The artist teaches at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday-Friday and 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 621 S. Washington, Royal Oak.

Susanne Hilberry Gallery—Drawings and prints by an important assemblage of contemporary artists will continue through December. Included are works by Egner, Gorchov, Hockney, Lichtenstein, Oldenburg, Shapiro, Stella, Twombly and Weller. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 555 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

Little Gallery—Oils and drawings by Jon Lamoureux will continue on display through December. These paintings of landscapes in the artist's home area of southern France are beautifully done with a luminousness of color all their own. Also on display are small sculptures by Art Schneider and Jack Bergeron and a group of prints. Hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 915 E. Maple, Birmingham.

Gwynn's Studio—Bob Gwynn is showing a new series of lithographs along with his original watercolors of the rural Michigan scene. The studio is on the second floor at 114 S. Woodward, Birmingham. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Saturday.

Robert L. Kidd Associates, Inc. Galleries—Five Canadian artists are featured in this first phase of a two-part show on Canada. Those in the show are Brian E. Brown, Adèle Pack, Bob Ferraro, Taffy Horrell and Bill Law. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 107 Townsend, Birmingham.

Spectrum Gallery—This Farmington Hills gallery is exhibiting sculptures by Lucretia Kerner through December. Ms. Kerner, active in many area creative groups, works in bronze, wood, terra cotta, alabaster, Hydrastone, polyester resin and aluminum. A native of Michigan, Ms. Kerner exhibits regularly in the shows at Somerset Mall, at the Detroit Artists Market and at galleries around the state. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, and Thursday until 7:30 p.m., 2820 Middlebelt in Chatham Square Mall, Farmington Hills.

W.F. Mulley Galleries—Sculptures by Tony Bellomo will be on display at the gallery through Dec. 23. Titled "Magic, Teardrops and Children," Bellomo's exhibit is indicative of his fascination with the circus clown as a mirror of the human condition down through the centuries. Gallery hours are 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 1025 Haynes, Birmingham.

Yaw Gallery—Ceramics by Paul Soldner and "The Wedding Skirts of Sumatra" will be displayed through Jan. 4. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday-Saturday, 550 N. Woodward.

Garret Gallery—"Biggest Little Show in Town" is a miniature painting show in which 25 Michigan artists are represented. Paintings are all 10 inches square or less in size. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday. This charming coop gallery, one of the few to survive, is on the second floor at 3331 Grand River, in downtown Farmington. Even Joe Maniscalco found it challenging to scale down for this show of miniature paintings.

Arwin Galleries—Graphics and sculpture of northern Canadian Eskimo artists will be on display through Dec. 29. The gallery is at 222 W. Grand River, Detroit. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum—Prints and Drawings by David Hockney will be on display through Jan. 14. Sponsored by the ambassador of Great Britain, this is the first traveling exhibition of Hockney's prints and drawings in North America. It includes a selection of his most recent series of etchings, "The Blue Guitar." Museum hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday. Admission charge, 380 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

Artisans Gallery—This Southfield gallery will show fiber art by Jill Purdie through Dec. 17. The gallery is at 19666 W. Ten Mile, Southfield.
