Schoolcraft OKs Student Loans

Schoolcraft Community College students will be eligible for federal scholarship loans next year (1970-71), thanks to a $1,000 contribution by district taxpayers. Participation with $15,000 worth of National Defense Education Act (NDEA) funds was approved last week by the college board of trustees.

Flute Concert Offered By Fifth Graders

Clarenceville School District fifth graders will present their annual song flute concert on Wednesday, Nov. 5, beginning at 7 p.m. at the high school gymnasium. John Szalek, Clarenceville's director of bands, says that about 250 children will participate in the program. He along with Ted Muller, who teaches instrumental music in the junior high and elementary grades, and John Littlejohn, instrumental music teacher in the elementary grades, will direct the group. Numbers featured will be "Winkie, Twinkle" (in a round), "An Oriental Tune," "A French Tune," "Mary's Little Lamb," and "Jolly Old St. Nick." Also featured will be solos, duets and trios. All fifth graders are required to study the song flute from two to 2 1/2 months. Each student purchases his own flute and music book and studies with them 20 minutes each school day. After this initiation into instrumental music, the student is free to continue his musical education by studying other instruments.

Area Man Helps Field Alumni Band

An Okemos man will take part in one of the nation's most unusual marching bands on Saturday, Nov. 1. Robert Chartrand, a Westland resident who is principal of Ashcroft School in Redford Township, plays in the University of Michigan Alumni Band - affectionately called "the bast from the past" when it performs on the football field in Ann Arbor each year. Chartrand is secretary-treasurer of the U-M Band Alumni Association. Founded in 1950, the University of Michigan Band Alumni Association is thought to be the only group of its kind to actually appear as a marching band at least once during the year. The band meets annually at homecoming in Ann Arbor, and the highlight of the reunion is always the appearance of the Alumni Band on the turf of the Michigan Stadium. The Alumni Band will appear in pre-game ceremonies at the Michigan-Wisconsin game and will join their younger counterparts of the famed University of Michigan Marching Band at half-time.
