

County flirts with solo transit plan

By TOM HODGSON

An impending Oakland County withdrawal from the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) is unlikely, but County Executive Don Murphy wants a county-only public transportation plan developed by 1980 or 1981.

The County Board of Commissioners this week will consider a resolution that the county lead a study and eventually offer a development transportation program and budget.

The board will also consider creating a subcommittee to study the options for a county-only transit plan, including the state transit authority, and to study the county's own transit system.
