

'Underground Press' Will Open Minds Of Young

EDITOR:

The recent discussion within the Plymouth City Commission to form an obscenity board to review literature has left me wondering whether certain officials have any sense at all. To say that underground papers are corrupting the youth of Plymouth institutions. The real issue behind this is that the city government is trying to hide the stories printed by the Fifth Estate and the Ann Arbor Argus of certain court cases handed by Judge Dunbar Davis. A political maneuver with the youth as pawns.

Underground newspapers will not corrupt the minds of Plymouth's young, rather they will broaden the horizons of its youth, who for all their lives have been tucked away in a small imaginary world called Plymouth.

We Won't Say Attorneys

EDITOR:

The undersigned are attorneys representing the plaintiffs in the suit backed by the Livonia Parents for Education. Our suit was commenced a couple of days prior to Mr. Welling's suit. Our action was for injunctive relief, Mr. Welling's suit was for a Writ Mandamus. The Judgment entered by the Honorable Charles Kaufman was a Judgment granting injunctive relief.

Mr. Welling's attorneys made oral argument to the Court requesting the Writ of Mandamus and the Court denied their Writ, stating that the Court believed the injunction was the appropriate relief.

It is true that Mr. Welling's attorneys have filed pleadings in the Supreme Court and they are required to do so by law. We have also filed pleadings in the Supreme Court on behalf of plaintiffs in our action.

It is the opinion of the undersigned that it is inappropriate at this time for any of the litigants to start a feud by writing letters to the editor which smack of "sour grapes."

The undersigned intend no further replies to any further letters by Mr. Welling or his supporters for that reason.

The undersigned do not wish to jeopardize the pending action before the Supreme Court nor do they wish to encourage hostilities between the parties who have similar interests and goals.

Blames Parents In Gun Incident

EDITOR:

I wonder where the parents of the boys where who would allow their sons to go to shooting with a pump air rifle in Edward Hines Park. This incident occurred between Edward Hines Drive and the river, midway between Inlister and Middle Belt. Since these rifles are il-

Catholics Should Finance Parochial

EDITOR: In answer to a recent letter to the editor asking how can a person who professes a belief in God oppose parochialism? Well, I'll tell you because you are a Catholic. The same way you took prayer out of the public schools so you could make the public school system go away out without God. So that Catholics could get their parochial across.

I, too, believe in God, I believe very much in parochialism. But I believe in the freedom of our country and I say parochialism is a privilege and we ourselves should pay for it, not through taxes but through ourselves.

But if you are going to get tax money to pay for this, why not forget public schools and get all tax money for parochialism. Then we could build our parochial schools and they won't be Catholic.

But to me this would be wrong

The Bright Side Of Half-Day Classes

EDITOR:

In regard to Kevin Nims letter dated Oct. 29, I agree half-days aren't fair—but there is something you can do with your free time.

I am a Livonia junior high school student on half-days, but every day after school some of my classmates and I help children with their work in my former elementary school. We're trying to help make the half-day situation easier for the teachers and children by tutoring children who need individual help with their studies. The teachers can't give them all special attention—but we can! It also gives us a review of the things we have learned in our earlier grades, and what's more we really enjoy it!
