

Bennett passes Citadel intro

David D. Bennett, of 29950 High Valley, Farmington Hills, was among 650 freshmen who completed "Knob Week" at the Citadel on August 24.

Freshman cadets are indoctrinated during a week of concentrated training enabling them to take their places as members of South Carolina Corps of Cadets. This tradition evolved at the military college since its founding in 1842.

During "Knob Week" the freshmen undergo instructions in drill, college regulations, honor system, traditions of The Citadel, and other training necessary to assist each new cadet in acclimating himself in the classroom and on the parade ground.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett, of Farmington Hills.

Generations walk

Residents graduate from heating course

Farmington area residents Ronald Ullman and Hector LeBlanc recently completed classes at the National Training Center of the Customer Training Division of Heil-Quaker Heating and Cooling products.

They graduated from the phase I heating, DSI and flue damper seminar. The curriculum includes classroom and laboratory sessions in techniques of installation and service. Instructors are expert in the field of heating and cooling and teach in the language of the trade.

Participants are trained in sales, management, installation and service.

Webb manager goes to capital

George A. Abbott, manager of product sales at Jervis B. Webb Co. in Farmington Hills, participated in a recent strategy session in Washington D.C. in his role as a member of the executive committee of the National Small Business Association.

The NSB Executive Committee met to consider present trends affecting American entrepreneurs, and to plan ways to help small business owners cope with the ever-growing impact of government action on small companies.

Members of the NSB committee discussed the prospects for forthcoming tax legislation, the prospects for regulatory reform, and the White House conference on small business, due to take place in January.
