

Robbie Timmons

What's better than perfect?

A blend of light and dark powder was then applied to give a flat finish, followed by gold finishing powder to add polish to the skin.

STEP THREE proved to be the most important accessory of all to the Timmons transformation. The ultimate in dressing well is carefully applied, colorful makeup designed to bring out the eyes and flaut the lips, she learned from makeup artist Hanan, who divides her time between the Biondi Birmingham salon and the Yianis salon. Hanan began the makeup demonstration by carefully removing Ms. Timmons's light eye makeup with cleansing cream applied with a cotton tipped swab.

Then her face was prepared for coloring by blending a neutral foundation on the skin with an application of illusion cream on the eyelids to hold color.

ted by Hattie and having the expert attentions of Yiannis and Hanan were a completely glamorous experience for me. I felt great!" Watching her on the newscast the night before, it was obvious that she felt on top of the world. She looked sensational while she delivered the news with great elan.

"I had a lot of compliments," she said. "The men really reacted. They were saying 'Wow, you look devastating.' Everybody said something complimentary."

The beautiful television personality plans, however, to reserve her star-quality fashion image for special events and gala evenings. "I want to be up-to-date and modern without taking anything away from the job that I am doing," she explained. I don't want the audience to think of me as a model."
