'Mama' recalls past

"I Remember Mama," in its original form, will be presented by the First Theater Guild of Birmingham on Fridays and Saturdays, March 16, 17 and 23, 24, in the Knox Auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church, 1659 W. Maple.

The play, written by John Van Druten, was first produced by Rodgers and Hammerstein in New Haven, Conn. in 1944. It subsequently became the basis for the immensely popular TV series during the 1950s and has returned to the professional theater in New York as a musical starring Liv Ullmann.

It is produced in Birmingham by permission of the Dramatist Play Service, Inc., of New York.

Kay LaForest and John Lorne are co-directors of the production, which features Adrienne Krebs as Mama and Nancy Moffat as oldest daughter, Katrin, aspiring journalist and narrator of the story.

All performances are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. except for the Senior Citizens' Matinee at 2 p.m. Saturday, March 24.
