

Northville Town Hall lines up its 1979-80 slate

Northville Town Hall's 19th season, 1979-80, will open with Phil Donahue Oct. 1 and conclude with Patrice Munsel April 10.

Rounding out the four-lecture program will be Detroit Free Press columnist Nickie McWhirter on Nov. 8 and Lawrence Gichner, speaking on collectibles March 13, 1980.

Chairwoman Florence Booms announced the line-up for next season at the March program. Tickets will be sold for the season only and again will be priced at $20 for the four lectures.

They will go on sale at the final lecture of the current season. Lectures at 11 a.m. and the celebrity luncheons which follow will continue to be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

After giving present town hall ticket-holders an opportunity to purchase next season's tickets, the town hall committee will begin accepting mail orders after April 12.

Applications should be sent to Mrs. Richard Kelly, Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville 48167. Checks for $20 should be made payable to Northville Town Hall and must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Booms says she expects the 1979-80 season will be sold out within a month after tickets go on sale.

She suggests that ticket-holders make luncheon reservations for the season also as only 200 presently can be accommodated at the luncheons. Luncheons are $7.50 each or $30 for the season. Celebrity speakers appear at the luncheon following the lecture and answer questions from the audience.

In order to bring Donahue, one of daytime television's most popular personalities, to Northville Town Hall it was necessary to change the day from the traditional Thursday to a Monday for this lecture only.

His Northville Town Hall lecture will be conducted the same way he conducts his television show. "He will meet and greet the audience, tug, hug, touch, talk, listen, prod, learn and share," his publicity promises.

OLD MAPS, rare books, and art objects are searched out by collector Gichner for the Smithsonian and other leading museums.

"There are innumerable reasons why people collect — some to preserve for posterity and hardships of the past, others for a sense of significance and a few strictly for investment," he said.

Glenna S. McWhirter, better known to column readers as Nickie, joined the Detroit Free Press staff in 1963 as a feature writer in the women's department and has been with the newspaper ever since. She has been a newsroom feature writer, general assignment and investigative reporter, special projects and business news writer, and Sunday Magazine contributor.

Patrice Munsel broke all box office records in the history of Broadway musical theater when she starred in "The Merry Widow" at Lincoln Center. On the Broadway stage she has been acclaimed for "Kiss Me, Kate," "South Pacific," "The King and I," "Hello Dolly" and "My Fair Lady."
