

Special Scirocco offered

A limited edition of Volkswagen's Scirocco sports car is being offered with a five-speed stick shift, a spoiler under the front bumper, and deep bucket racing-type seats as standard equipment.

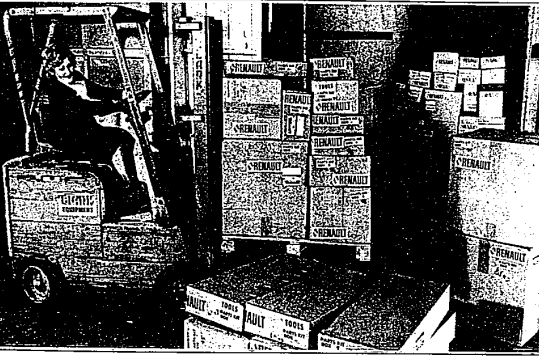

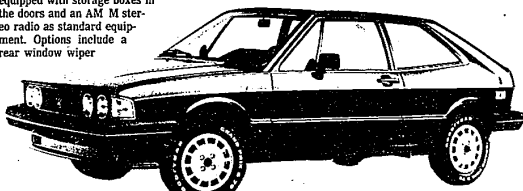

The car, which comes in either black or white, has 175/70 13-inch steel belted radial tires with raised white lettering.

The limited editions come equipped with storage boxes in the doors and an AM/FM stereo radio as standard equipment. Options include a rear window wiper and washer and air conditioning. The Scirocco is powered by a 1.6-liter overhead cam engine. Acceleration from zero to 60 mph is listed at 10.4 seconds and the test track top speed is 103 mph. According to Federal Environmental Protection Agency figures, the five-speed Scirocco is rated at 42 miles per gallon highway and 25 mpg city. By comparison, four-speed versions deliver 38 mpg highway and 24 mpg city.

Like all 1979 VWs, the limited edition Sciroccos are backed by a 12-month, 20,000 mile limited warranty.

Renault parts to AMC dealers

Beverly Kopera, American Motors Corp.'s supervisor of parts merchandising, unloads the first shipment of Renault parts to selected AMC dealers. AMC will be selling the Renault Le Car and Gordini this month. Renault is shipping the basic parts to the dealers. AMC franchised Renault dealers can order other parts from the nearest 17 AMC warehouses throughout the U.S. American Motors and Renault signed an agreement in January that includes joint automotive sales.
