

Senate approves money to fight dope running

Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on a major roll call votes May 17-23.

HOUSE
PANAMA CANAL — The House approved, 200 for and 198 against, the parliamentary rules under which it will debate legislation to implement the treaties turning over the Panama Canal to Panama by the year 2000.

Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., who wanted to debate the legislation, said, "The time to vote for or against the treaties was two years ago, not today."

Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, an opponent, said the House should postpone treaty debate until the CIA provides "firm assurances that Panama is not a mainland-based Cuba-type revolutionary operation rampantly exporting terrorism among its neighbors with the money they get from the Panama Canal."

Most members voting nay don't want to relinquish the Panama Canal. Reps. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, David Bonior, D-Mount Clemens, William Brodhead, D-Detroit and James Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, voted yea.

Rep. William Broomfield, R-Bloomfield, voted nay.
 Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, did not vote.

DISASTER LOANS — The House

rejected, 174 for and 232 against an amendment to lower the interest rate on government loans that compensate for damage inflicted on homes and personal property by natural disasters. The amendment sought to lower from 3 to 1 percent the rate on the first $10,000 loaned. The vote came during debate on HR 4011, later passed with a proposed rate of 3 percent on the first $55,000. A House-Senate conference now has the bill.

Rep. Jon Hixon, R-Miss., the sponsor said: "This is not a spending amendment. There is nothing inflationary about restoring the economy of a disaster-stricken area."

Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, an opponent, said, "probably it will not do any good anyway" to vote for the lower interest rate, because the Senate was firmly against the 1 percent figure.

Members voting yea wanted to lower the interest rate to 1 percent on certain federal disaster-assistance loans.

Pursell and Broomfield voted yea. Bonior, Ford, Brodhead and Blanchard voted nay.

SMALL BUSINESSES — By a vote of 192 for and 216 against, the House rejected an amendment to limit the size and scope of the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) program. The vote came during debate on Small Business Administration bill (HR 4011) later passed and sent to conference with the Senate.

Roll Call Report

The program question has set up, on a pilot basis, 11 centers designed to counsel small businessmen on federal regulations, tax matters, new technology and other matters. Rejection of this amendment cleared the way for possible expansion of the program beyond its pilot basis, at a fiscal 1980 cost of $18 million.

Rep. Ken Dramer, R-Colo., who supported the limiting amendment, called SBDC program "a classic case of the government giving more help than the people who are getting the help really need."

Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, an opponent of the amendment, said, "I have talked to many small businesses who need just a bit of help in the way of what we might call adult education."

Members voting yea either were opposed to or had doubts about the federal program (SBDC) intended to advise small businessmen.

Pursell, Sawyer and Broomfield voted yea.
 Bonior, Ford, Brodhead and Blanchard voted nay.

SENATE

TURKEY — The Senate adopted, 64 for and 32 against, an amendment providing Turkey with a grant, rather than a loan, of $50 million in U.S. military aid. The vote came during debate on HR 3173, a foreign aid bill that was passed and sent to conference with the House. Altogether, Turkey is slated to receive more than $400 million in U.S. economic and military aid this fiscal year.

Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., the

sponsor, said: "The U.S. has a great stake in a sound and stable Turkey. But the U.S. is not alone. Greece and the NATO countries and our friends in the Middle East also have a profound stake in a sound and stable Turkey."

Sen. Chalmers Pell, D-R.I., an opponent of the grant, said: "In addition to Turkey's poor performance regarding Cyprus, we are also witnessing a Turkish sabotage of Greece's efforts to return to the integrated military command of NATO."

Senators voting yea wanted a $50 million military outlay for Turkey to be a grant rather than a loan.

Sens. Donald Riegle and Carl Levin, Democrats, voted nay.

NARCOTICS — The Senate voted, 65 for and 29 against, to increase by $16.6 million the fiscal 1980 outlay for narcotics-control programs in Colombia. This brought to $54.4 million the amount in the new foreign military-aid bill for supporting Colombian government efforts to slow the flow of Colombian cocaine and marijuana into the U.S. The bill (HR3173) was passed and sent to conference with the House.

Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., the sponsor, said: "My personal belief is that we are essentially unable to control the supply of illicit narcotics once it has entered into the U.S. Therefore, the principle of moving as close to the source as possible is our only alternative to controlling this insidious problem."

No senators spoke against adding the $16.6 million. Senators voting nay opposed the additional outlay for the Colombian governments "narcotics interdiction" program.

Riegle and Levin voted yea.

Your watch is Cartier. Your automobile is Ferrari. Your furniture is Roche Bobois.

Roche Bobois has a look all its own. A look rich in contrasts. Yet elegantly harmonious in function. A look that graciously reflects the unique life styles of its owners. Furnishings of courageous design, for people who aren't timid about making a statement. There is nothing shy about our accent trims of 24 karat gold, stainless steel, and solid brass.

Nothing frivolous about our select, rare woods. Lacquered; then hand-rubbed, then lacquered and hand-rubbed again. And again. And again. And again. Or our fabrics: the finest leathers, wools, velvets, cottons that money can buy. But of course. Because there is nothing quite like Roche Bobois. Not for just everybody. But then, you aren't just everybody, are you?
