Calling All Dolls For Derby

If there is a doll in the closet, basement or attic that is headed for a Goodwill Collection Center, send it now. Goodwill Industries needs these dolls for its third annual "Dolly Derby," a doll dressing contest undertaken by Detroit Area Camp Fire Girls as a service project to benefit Goodwill.

The dolls will be judged and ribbon awards made at a special recognition ceremonial next March. Ultimately they will be put on public display and sold, with proceeds going to aid the Goodwill programs for the handicapped.

Mrs. Edmund Sankowski of Detroit, project chairman, said doll donations should be left in Goodwill collection center boxes found on supermarket lots, and that they should be tagged for the "Dolly Derby." Dolls will be ready for pickup by Camp Fire leaders and their girls at the Goodwill plant at 6522 Brush beginning Dec. 27.

The "Dolly Derby" is a doll dressing contest, originated and copyrighted by Goodwill Industries of Akron, Ohio, that is cosponsored by Goodwill facilities and local girls' groups throughout the country. Best of show dolls are eligible entries in an All American "Dolly Derby" held yearly in Akron.
