FRUITS AND FREIGHTS.

When we buy fruits in the open market we sometimes wonder if the dealer is really making the tremendous profits with which he is credited.

The fact has been made public that it is cheaper to ship fruits from Africa than it is to send them by rail from California to New York.

It is said that a bale of goods can be shipped by water from New York to South America for less than it costs to transport it from one side of the city of New York to the other.

What's the matter with our railroad system, anyway? The exorbitant freight rates in this country are a burden to the people, and there appears to be no relief in sight.

With all of our vaunted intelligence, we do not seem to have brains enough to evolve a system of distribution that would do credit to a Fiji Islander.

Some day, perhaps, stockholders in our railroad will realize that a lot of useless "officials" are being carried on the payrolls at high salaries. They may even come to the conclusion that the services of half the number might be readily dispensed with, and that a reduction of about 50 per cent in the salaries of the remaining "higher ups" would be more in keeping with the cash value of their services.

BIG CITIES AND LITTLE TOWNS.

Are you still pining to live in a big city, where the bright lights glare and revelry reigns supreme? You might try it out and send us your experiences for publication.

Two years ago a young married man purchased a home in the outskirts of Chicago for $7,000 on this time payment plan, the monthly payments being rather heavy.

Then business slacked up, his income decreased, and he found it impossible to meet his payments. He has just sold out at a loss and is renting a four-room flat for which he is required to pay $75 a month.

There are said to be 75,000 families in Chicago who have doubled up with other families because there were no houses or flats for them to occupy. And the experience of Chicago is much like that of any other large city in the country.

There may not be as much glitter and glamor in this town as there is to be found in a large city, but there is a deal of satisfaction in knowing that a person's soul is his own and that he does not have to be gouged front and back every time he turns around.

When we hear of a great coal company paying a cash dividend of 150 per cent we wonder that mother nature doesn't supply us with perpetual summer. But, then, along would come the ice man, and—oh, shucks!

A LITTLE BIT OF PEP.

Here's a little sermon from an exchange that is as full of truth as a watermelon is full of meat—or seeds. Read it twice and be sure you do not miss any of it.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers 'advertising is a dream,' for the business man who slumbers has no chance to skim the cream. Life is real! Life is earnest! Competition is something fierce, if for dividends thou yearnest, learn to parry thrust and pierce. In the business of battle, mollusc-coddlers have no place; be not like dumb driven cattle, be a live one in the race. Lives of great men all remind us we must bring the bacon home, and departing, leave behind us footprints on another's dome. Let us then be up and doing, otherwise we may be doing, still achieving, still pursuing—advertising and get the 'mon.'"

We are all equal—when we are asleep.

You can't explain anything you don't understand.

There's nothing to some books except a good title.

Remember that either makes a man or a woman.
