Friend and Enemy.

"A friend," said Uncle Eben, "tells you yob faults, but an enemy follies you along into makin' em wor; an' more numerous."

Neon and the Aurora.

By means of sounding balloons there have been collected specimens of the air up to an altitude of more than eight and a half miles. Analysis shows the presence of helium only in the layers lower than about six miles. Neon, on the contrary, is found at all levels, and this fact is regarded as confirming the identification of several spectroscopic lines of neon in the spectrum of the aurora borealis.

Round Chimneys Best.

A round chimney, while not so easy to build as a square one, has decided advantages over the latter, says the Scientific American. It greatly lessens the friction between the walls of the chimney and the rising gases, and has the smallest wall surfaces in proportion to the cross area. The efficiency of a round chimney 24 inches in diameter is almost as great as that of a square chimney 24 inches across.

SERVICE

"SERVICE—Not something for nothing—But doing what you want done Intelligently, Economically and Promptly."

SERVICE means simply that the car owner should be able to obtain an intelligent estimate on repair work, have the work done at a reasonable cost in a reasonable length of time, and with perfect confidence that the job, having been performed by competent mechanics, equipped with the proper tools, will stand up and give him his money's worth.

SERVICE does not, in its truest sense, mean "free work," excepting only insofar as the minor adjustments on new cars are concerned. Our service department should be profitable, and it can be made to yield very substantial profits by doing repair work with efficient time-saving tools and equipment, and thereby cutting costs, rather than by charging higher prices made necessary if the facilities for speedy and accurate work are not available.
