Astrology — that ancient and "strange" science has long held the stars to be responsible for all people and events. Even today in the far East, astrology plays a larger part in marriage than does the mutual love and consent of the couple involved.

In China, until recent years, the families of the bride and groom consulted a fortune teller as to whether the "sign" would bless the couple or not. To determine this, vital information such as the year, month, day and hour of the couple's birth was needed. If the signs were favorable and no unusual events occurred within three days, the marriage contract was signed and plans for the marriage — which always took place during the waning, not the waxing, of the moon — could begin.

Orin Jewelers do not have an astrologer to help the bride-to-be plan her wedding, but we do have a trained and authoritative Bridal Consultant who is prepared to help you with all details of the wedding. Top coordination, which is so essential to "good taste" in entertaining, becomes a simple matter at Orin. Our wide selection of Silver, China and Crystal patterns offer innumerable combinations to please all tastes and to fit all budgets.

A visit to Orin Jewelers should be a first on your "Wedding Plans" list. You will enjoy shopping at Orin. Do plan to come in soon.
