Botsford PTA Lists Programs For Season

Botsford Elementary school PTA has announced its programs for the remainder of the 1969-70 school year.

A film recommended by the national PTA, "A Parent Speaks to a Child on Sex," will be shown in the school's multipurpose room on Jan. 22. A question and answer session will follow led by a member of the medical profession.

On Feb. 19, special education teachers will conduct a question and answer session climaxed by a tour of Botsford's new special education rooms.

Questions to be answered by teachers include the following: Why are certain children placed or not placed in special education rooms?

Do children placed in the rooms pursue the same type of studies as other children on the same grade level?

A film, "Child Molesters and How to Protect Your Child from Them," will be shown on March 19. A question and answer period will follow conducted by an officer from the Redford State Police Post. Nomination of officers will be held.

April 16, The May 21 meeting will feature installation of PTA officers, service award presentations and musical entertainment.

Grandview PTA Meets Jan. 14

Dr. William W. Wattenberg, educational psychologist at Wayne State University, will be guest speaker when Clarenceville's Grandview PTA meets Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m. in the school's multipurpose room. His topic will be "Normal Problems of Normal Children."

Edgewood Sees 'Child Molesting'

A film, "Child Molesting," will be shown when the Edgewood Parent Teacher Organization meets Wednesday, Jan. 14 at 8 p.m. in the school. In addition, a filmstrip, "Patch the Pony," will be shown. It is an animated story constructed to teach children to avoid strangers.

Westbrook PTA Meets Jan. 19

Mrs. Martha Sage, who has charge of the exemplary language program for Clarenceville School District, will be guest speaker when the Westbrook PTA meets on Monday, Jan. 19. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the school's multipurpose room.

Mrs. Sage will tell parents of the program which is now being conducted with third through sixth graders. She will explain what has been accomplished and what she hopes the program will achieve.
