

C'ville High Report Cards Printed On Computer

One way that Clarenceville School District is ushering in the 1970s is with a new system of issuing report cards in the senior high school. The system will begin in March.

Instead of being handwritten for each student by each of his teachers all report cards will be printed by the Oakland County schools data processing system. This means that each card and any remarks teachers wish to make will be completely printed.

SENIOR HIGH Principal Anthony Marra says the new system will have these advantages:

- With printed, data-processed cards there is less room for human error or for omissions.
- The printed card will facilitate faster follow-up regarding class changes, scheduling and dropping of classes. Counselors can more easily and quickly trace missing, incomplete or failing grades and discuss them with students.

• The printed card will contain a citizenship code enabling a teacher to make comments if he wishes. The code lists such items as: "Books or materials not brought to class. Little or no class participation...School work progressing satisfactorily, etc."

• Each printed card will contain the complete name of the teacher giving a grade to a student.

• When final grades are distributed at the conclusion of each semester, the printed grade card will list each student's grade point average.

• At the conclusion of each semester, the computer will provide for each student's permanent record gummied labels with his final grades. The gummied labels need merely be affixed to this permanent record. With this system, there is less room for error. It eliminates the necessity of one person having to hand-record permanent grades each semester for the nearly 1,000 students in the high school.

IN CONNECTION with the permanent records, Principal Marra points out that only semester grades are put in the permanent records—not grades for each, individual marking period.

Marra says that "follow-up on student grades will be much more complete because machine computation far surpasses any human computation we can do or have done on grades or attendance."

It should be pointed out, however, he concludes, that with the new system the dates cards are issued may vary a day or two. This may be caused from time to time if Oakland County has a great number of cards to process at the same time or if there is any mechanical problem.

The first computer cards ordinarily should be ready for issuance March 11 (Wednesday) but Principal Marra says they probably will be issued March 12.
