Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could get rid of pain, literally erase it without drugs and costly medicines? Bonnie Prudden's most recent book, Pain Erasure (M. Evans, $14,95) is about just that: what pain is, where it comes from, how to get rid of it, and how to avoid it to begin with. If you're like most people, this is a subject you want to know more about. In fact, the last time Bonnie Prudden was at librowse bookstore, in W. Bloomfield, hundreds of people turned out to hear her speak. And now, she's coming back, on Tuesday night, January 13th, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

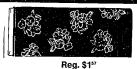

Bonnie is returning to Browse to talk

Bonnie is returning to iBrowse to talk about her simple and easily learned technique to identify the source of your pain, muscle trigger points. Once found, you can use Bonnie's myotherapy to deactivate the trigger points and erase pain.

One night only: you can hear Bonnie Prudden talk about myotherapy. Don't miss it: Tuesday, Jan. 13th, at 7:30.
