Scout troop 389 launches month-long paper drive

Boy Scouts in Troop 389 ask residents to save old newspapers for their drive, which will wind up Saturday, March 7.

On that day, residents are asked to put their bundled or bagged newspapers near the curb of their home. Scouts will be assigned to given areas in the two cities to pick up the papers.

Other residents may drop off their papers that day at an appropriately marked truck on the parking lot of Nardin Park Methodist Church, 29887 11 Mile.

Persons who wish a pick-up for a collection they have now may call Jim Nelson, 476-7551; Terry Finarock, 476-4158 or Jeff Green, 478-5187.

TROOP MEMBERS are simultaneously preparing for their paper drive and getting ready for their Court of Honor, set for Saturday, Jan. 23, headed by the troop's new scoutmaster, John R. Farley.

One of the highlights of the evening will circle around David Burton, Green and Nelson, who have all been honored by being asked to join the Order of the Arrow, Ottawa Circle, Council of Boy Scouts.

Another highlight for the troop concerns three Eagle Scouts, Finarock and Paul Liggett will both be awarded Gold Palms, Martin Stephens will be awarded the Bronze Palm.

Dave Abbott and Dave Burton both take honors and awards for participation in the Boy Scout Fall Council Competitions.

New scouts welcomed into the troop this year are Theo Chalogianis, Eric Cole, Scott Hemelrich, Daniel Hommes, Chris Javela, Robert Lichty and Michael O'Hair.

Farley's assistant scoutmasters are Dewey Burton, Ron Finarock and Vel Lemley.

PATCHWORK PRESENTATIONS: A QUILT SHOW.

We invite you to join our tribute to the art of American quilting, yesterday and today. Bring the quilt you have made yourself and/or a family favorite to Mr. Joe Rivard, manager of Jacobson's Store for the Home, Birmingham, by February 14th.

Your heirloom-of-the-future will be displayed in our store as a prelude to the Quilt Trunk Show on March 4 and 5, a glorious collection of traditional designs from California. Your work can be appraised by the people who will present the show, visiting quilting experts Andrea Totan and Mr. Yun Chung.
