

Monday, March 10, 1981

AAUW marks double anniversary

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The branch was founded in 1956 and has since then been a leading force in the community. It has sponsored many programs and activities for women, including workshops, seminars, and social events. The branch is proud of its long history and looks forward to continuing its work for many years to come.

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The branch was founded in 1956 and has since then been a leading force in the community. It has sponsored many programs and activities for women, including workshops, seminars, and social events. The branch is proud of its long history and looks forward to continuing its work for many years to come.

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The branch was founded in 1956 and has since then been a leading force in the community. It has sponsored many programs and activities for women, including workshops, seminars, and social events. The branch is proud of its long history and looks forward to continuing its work for many years to come.

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The branch was founded in 1956 and has since then been a leading force in the community. It has sponsored many programs and activities for women, including workshops, seminars, and social events. The branch is proud of its long history and looks forward to continuing its work for many years to come.

Two charter members who got the Farmington branch of American Association of University Women started 25 years ago this month prepare for the group's anniversary celebration this week. Patsy Briggs (at left) and Hope Nashall recount the beginnings of the branch. (Staff photo by Randy Hurst)

Party-giver tells how it's done in center's lineup for spring

The spring schedule of special events planned in Farmington Community Center runs the gamut from food to travel to fashion and is highlighted by a low-to-evening led by Detroit's foremost party giver, Tom Schenck.

Judy Antishin (left) and Barbara Hernandez and guests who attend "Dinner and Judy's 25th Annual Easter Brunch" leave the table after the event. The event was held at the Farmington Community Center on Friday, April 10.

The Farmington Community Center is planning a series of special events for the spring. The first event is a "Dinner and Judy's 25th Annual Easter Brunch" on Friday, April 10. The event will be held at the center and will feature a meal, entertainment, and a raffle. The center is also planning a "Spring Fashion Show" on May 15. The show will feature a variety of clothing and accessories from local designers.

Old newspapers needed

Area residents are asked to be reminded to place their bundled and bagged newspapers in the receptacle marked for this purpose on the far end of the Farmington Hills Police Department's parking lot, in the city hall complex on 11 Mile and Orchard Lake roads.

Area residents are asked to be reminded to place their bundled and bagged newspapers in the receptacle marked for this purpose on the far end of the Farmington Hills Police Department's parking lot, in the city hall complex on 11 Mile and Orchard Lake roads.

Area residents are asked to be reminded to place their bundled and bagged newspapers in the receptacle marked for this purpose on the far end of the Farmington Hills Police Department's parking lot, in the city hall complex on 11 Mile and Orchard Lake roads.

Intermezzo series continues April 5

"Intermezzo," the Farmington Community Center's Chamber Music Series, continues at 8 p.m. Sunday, April 5. Musical selections will include the Mendelssohn Trio in D minor featuring artists Charlotte McKersie, violin; Richard Phipps, cello; and Patricia Loring, piano.

Pasties for brunch

Beef pasties, served with salad greens and fresh fruit is one of the suggestions for brunch in the new "Family Cookbook" put together by the American Diabetes Association and the American Dietetic Association. The book contains 250 recipes and suggestions for meal planning for those who are diabetic, watching cholesterol or counting calories.

There's a beautiful difference between a wedding with us.

Your wedding is the most important event in your life. And at Detroit Plaza Hotel, we don't take that lightly. Because we want your wedding to be a perfect memory. Forever and ever.

That's why we'll give your wedding very personalized service. Like our Executive Pastries to make you a wedding cake that's as special as you are. Magnificent furnishings, lawn furniture, flowers, china and silver. Superior service, excellent food and impeccable attention to every detail, all amid the splendor of the world-famous Renaissance Center.

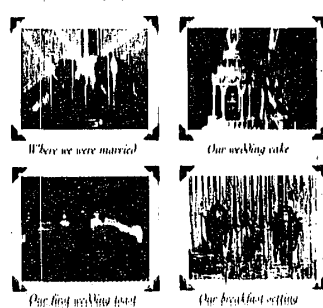

You'll have a personal staff expert to handle all the arrangements. To find out exactly what you want and create a moment in time that's uniquely yours.

You'll get that personalized service whether your event is an intimate family gathering or a reception for 2,000. A simple ceremony and champagne toast. Or a full-blown dinner at the Summit Restaurant.

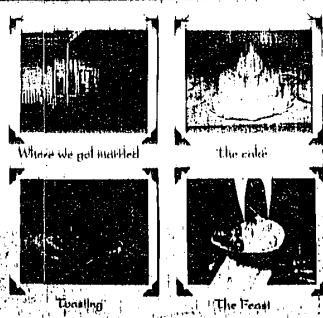

For the bride and groom, we have a lovely selection of honeymoon packages including all the fun and excitement of Detroit's finest beauty spots.

But get our most guests' best deal. Treat them to make your own (and night's) special occasion. A beautiful affair, complimentary champagne, room service breakfast, and more.

So call our Catering Department at 608-8400 and ask for our wedding expert, Eugene Walker. A wedding at the Detroit Plaza doesn't have to cost more, it just means more.

And a wedding with anyone else.

Detroit Plaza Hotel
WESTERN INTERNATIONAL
RENAISSANCE CENTER