

Room to spare

The Ford EXP, Ford Division's new front-wheel-drive sportcoupe, has two seats and a cavernous rear compartment — plenty of room for shopping, vacationing, and daily commuting.

Your car could use a spring cleaning, too

Whether your car is a top-of-the-line luxury mod-el or an economical base model, it still needs some wash-up, touch-up and spruce-up attention before wash-up, touch-up and spruce-up attention before summer.

'Chemicals that make roads passable in snow and ice and that are sprayed on trees and road surfaces during other seasons can react with the metal of the car," said Ralph Maccarone of American Motors.

"Any extreme weather conditions can affect the appearance of paint, metal trim and rubber parts."

The following are guidelines for body care for the cary out drive.

• Wash-ups — Weekly washings with cold, clean water and polishing with a soft cloth or chamois will preserve the car's finish. For the best results, don't wash it in direct sunlight. Use care in removing stains and road film to prevent scratching the finish. Auto polishes are available that will remove road film and normal stains.

Woodersin namels, and exterior tage strings are road tim and normal stains.

Woodgrain panels and exterior tape stripes are made of vinyl and are applied over the finish. Use special care in cleaning or polishing such areas to inade of vinys and act approximates as special care in cleaning or polishing such areas to avoid damage.

• Touch-ups — Paint scratches should be retouched as soon as they are discovered. Touch-up spaint is available in spray cans or brush applicators to match the color of your car. This paint, when properly applied, will cover minor nicks and scratches and prevent additional paint chipping.

The body identification plate, on the left front door, shows, the trim and paint number for your car. Use these numbers when ordering paint or trim from the dealer to ensure exact matching of replacement parts.

Spruce-ups — Chrome and bright metal trim should be washed frequently to protect the appearance of the car. A chrome cleaner to help remove discoloration and blemishes is best.

If your car has a vinly roof, it should be washed with water and a mild soap, if the roof is severly soiled, you can use vinyl cleaner as directed. Do not allow any vinyl cleaner to run down and dry on the paint, leaving a streak.

• Interior care — The interior care of your car also is important. Prequent cleaning with a wisk broom or vacuum cleaner and wiping with a damp cloth, followed by towel-drying, will help keep your upholstery and interior trim looking good. Stains from lipstick, ink gum, catsup, crayon or coffee can be cleaned by using the method recom-mended in the stain removat chart in the owner's manual.

manual. Vinyl-coated headliners can be cleaned with a cloth or sponge and a mild soap. Stronger cleaning solvents, such as gasoline, napha, turpentine, paint thinner or laundry soaps on the interior of your car can be dangerous to use and cause damage or fade the trim material.
