

Spanish extravaganza ends '81 Oakway season

Barbara Windham mezzo-soprano

Oakway Symphony's concluding concert of its 1981 season will be a Spanish event featuring the Maria Del Carmen Dance Company and mezzo-soprano Barbara Windham at Madonna College (Jeffries, 1-96, and Levan) at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Maria Del Carmen, a New York native, is a resident of Garden City. She began her career at 13 and includes within her performance portfolio appearances at the Spanish Embassy in Washington, D.C., and numerous international performances, as well as a solo performance for the Ambassador of Brazil.

She teaches at the American Dance Academy and is chairman for the Latin-American Festival, one of Detroit's ethnic festivals. Her company of 14 dancers includes Gabriel El Jara, who has appeared in other Oakway presentations.

Barbara Windham has made numerous appearances with the Detroit, Michigan and Toledo symphonies. For the last two seasons, she has performed at Meadow Brook Music Festival and is scheduled to appear there again this summer.

ADDITIONALLY, she has performed at several of the Brunch with Bach series at the Detroit Institute of Arts. She also has performed "Elektra" with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Under the batons of Francesco Di Biasi and guest conductor Sister M. Francine Van de Vyver, president of Madonna College, the artists will present a program drawn exclusively from Spanish composers which will include Tostado's "Amparito Roza," Lecuona's "Malagueña" and Bizet's "Gypsy Song" from "Carmen," and will conclude with Lara's "Granada."

For this concert only, due to sponsorship of Madonna College and special support from the Michigan Council for the Arts, the price of adult tickets is $2; student and senior citizens are $1.
