House backs Reagan budget blueprint

Here's how area House members were recorded on major roll call votes between April 30-May 7.

BUDGET BLUEPRINT: By a vote of 253-176, the House approved the Reagan administration's budget plan for the fiscal year that begins Oct. 1 and rejected a Democratic alternative. The budget resolution is only a guideline to be firmed up in committee and floor votes on specific programs.

The administration blueprint, the so-called Gramm-Latta amendment, anticipates $88.8 billion in outlays for fiscal 1982, a $31 billion deficit and a $13.3 billion tax cut. The repudiated Democratic plan also mandated austerity but without the massive dismantling of social programs urged by the administration and endorsed by Gramm-Latta supporters.

Supporter Eldon Rudd, R-Ariz., said, "We must back our president. We are not Republicans or Democrats when it comes to this budget at this point in history. We are Americans."

Opponent James Jones, D-Okla., said some members voting with the administration might reverse themselves on later votes on specific spending measures. "We should not cast a vote for what is politically expedient at the moment but which we intend to renege on later," he said.

Members voting yea favored the Administration budget plan. Reps. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, voted yea. Reps. David Bonior, D-Mt. Clemens, William Ford, D-Taylor, William Broadhead, D-Detroit, and James Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, voted nay.

LIBERAL ALTERNATIVE: The House rejected 119-303 a fiscal 1982 budget resolution designed by liberals. The amendment sought more social spending, lower defense outlays and, to balance the budget, a deferral of individual tax cuts until 1983.

Supporter William Ford, D-Mich., said "What the Administration seeks to do through its Alice in Wonderland economics is turn back the social clock in the areas of pensions, unemployment insurance, public assistance, education

No opponents raised arguments during debate on the amendment.

Members voting yea wanted higher levels of funding of social programs in fiscal 1982 along with a balanced budget. Bonior, Ford and Broadhead voted yea. Pursell, Sawyer, Blanchard, Broomfield, Vander Jagt, Albosta and Davis voted nay.

BLACK CAUCUS BUDGET: By a vote of 69-356, the House rejected an amendment that was the Congressional Black Caucus's version of the fiscal 1982 budget resolution. It called for less spending on defense and more on food stamps, education, housing and other programs important to the poor, and it recommended a tax cut weighted toward middle-income workers and away from the wealthy.

roll call report

In this nation, the government would stand by its people."

Opponents did not speak during debate on the amendment.

Supporter Parren Mitchell, D-Md., called the Reagan administration's budget "a denial of a long-standing commitment made by America to American people that somehow or another, when every other resource failed

Members voting yea supported the black caucus's fiscal 1982 budget proposal. Bonior, Ford and Broadhead voted yea. Pursell, Sawyer, Blanchard, Broomfield, Albosta and Davis voted nay. Vander Jagt did not vote.

Stolen goods for grabs

Both the Oakland County auction of surplus equipment and the sheriff's department's auction of unclaimed stolen and recovered property will be Saturday, May 16, behind the county's central garage in the service center complex, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

The sheriff's auction will begin at 9 a.m. Gates will open at 7 a.m. to allow inspection of the 77 bicycles, various tools, several aluminum rowboats and other goods.

The county surplus auction will feature about 70 automobiles — mainly full-size Pontiacs and Chevrolets — some 175 pieces of office furniture, more than 130 office machines, a variety of lawn equipment and some offroad utility vehicles. That auction will immediately follow the sheriff's sale.
