Anchoring

Amalia Barreda, previously news reporter at WJBK-TV, Channel 2, has moved into the weekend slot on Eyewitness News, joined by co-anchor Roy Weissinger. Ms. Barreda came to WJBK in September 1980 as general assignment street reporter after serving three years at KCST-TV in San Diego. She has worked for KPIX in San Francisco and KVOA, Tuscon, where she anchored and produced the news. Ms. Barreda and her husband, Rico, a pianist in the U-M Conducting Program, live in Livonia.

Play for children announced

The Plymouth Theatre Guild will present "The Pale Pink Dragon" by Phyllis McCallum and directed by Bruce Allen Scudder, at 10 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. May 23 and 30 at Central Middle School at Church and Main streets, Plymouth.

Tickets for the children's musical are $1 and may be purchased at the door on the day of each performance or by calling Karen Groves at 420-2161.

"Pale Pink Dragon" is a fairy tale about beautiful Princess Pinkie who falls in love with a commoner, who is really Prince Hal in disguise. Pinkie's jealous stepmother, Queen Contemptua, and stepsister, Pea Green, plot with the wicked witch to turn the princess into an ugly, scaly dragon.

Because of Pinkie's beauty and kindness, she is turned into a pale pink dragon. Prince Hal is sent to slay the dragon but refuses, turning Pinkie back into the fair princess. And, as fairy tales go, "They live happily ever after."

"Pale Pink Dragon" has a cast of young adults and children and is the first play in several years by the Plymouth Theatre Guild.
