BORDERLINE FATTIES should take heed of the harmful and ineffective dieting programs prescribed by some sources, warns the Oakland County Health Division.

In response to the demand for information on weight control, the department is offering the public a booklet: "Want to Lose Weight — Do It Safely."

The checklist for dieters, published by the Michigan Department of Public Health, offers guidelines for safety and effectiveness in dieting, and identifies those weight reduction programs that are harmful.

The brochure outlines steps to take in preventing excess weight in children and how to decrease weight gains in adults.

The booklets are available at both county health division offices in Southfield and Pontiac. For more information, call 858-1394 or 424-7031.
