Bowlers honored

The doors to the Detroit Bowling Hall of Pame will be opened this fall to admit five new members. Headed by Daye Soutar, the former Detroiter now living in Kansas-City who has performed well on the pro circuit for years, the committee selections also include Am Wells-selections also include Ann Wells-Constantine and Dorothy Brichta in the women's division and Hank Guiewek and Lafayette Allen in the meritorious section. Mrs. Constantine, now in her 57th year of bowling, was the spark of the famed Olympic team which won city and national titles in the 1930s. Brichta was also a star in the ladies' ton circuits.

Brichta was also a star in une natures top circuits. Gniewek was chosen in recognition of his longtime service to the game. He has been a sponsor and a bowler in the "big leagues." Allen long has been a factor in the development of the game among blacks.

Induction ceremonies will be held "his fall at Cobo Hall."

Induction ceremonies will be held this fall at Cobe Hall.

THE LARGEST one-day charity event of the season — the annual WIR bowling party — is set for Thursday at Thunderbowl Lanes in Allen Park.

A team of 20 WJR celebrities and others from the bowling world will team with amateurs from across metro Detroit in a three-game event. All prize money will be donnted to various charities.

AL COLCER did some consistent bowling to pace the field in the men's trio tournament at Be-Lier Lanes. This is a novel event in which four games are bowled on four dif-ferent lanes. He set the pace by linking games of 246, 222, 244 and 258. At this fig-ure, Colcer bested Ed Peart, both and games of 222, 346, 226 and 245, by eight pins. Regig Bernard had a 266 for high game of the night.

MANY OF THE top pros in the Midwest will be in the field when the Regional BPA event opens on Saturday at Cherry Hill Lanes. That. event will run through Sunday. Amateur competitors will open the affair on Friday with a pro-am format that has drawn a complete field.

FRANK'S POWER WASH has been declared the champion of the Wednesday men's league at West-land Bowl. Jeff Johnson had a 269 for high game and Jim Heilman a 699 for high series.

ROSE MARSH is celebrating her 25th year as secretary of the Detroit Women's Bowling Association. This a new high for service in that posi-tion, and Rose has no plans for retirement.

Andover, Lahser netters advance

Art Kelsey, who plays on Bloomfield Hills Lahser's No. 2 doubles team, probably will be with his teammates on May 29 at the Class. A state ten-nis meet at Midland's Community Tennis Center.

Unfortunately, Kelsey will be watching — not playing — because he broke his leg in a dual meet against Troy Athens Monday.

But Kelsey and his partner, Pat Paige, made the
