

Streets filled with festival excitement

With sirens and lights going, the Farmington Hills Fire Department displayed their shiny trucks and equipment.

These men are not giants; they are the Shriners driving their miniature cars down Grand River Avenue. Guess how many miles to the gallon these compacts get?

Staff photos by Randy Borst

SHOW YOU PATRONIZE THE ARTS IN HARVE BENARD'S FUR-COLLARED DINNER SUIT. Sculpted in...yes...white: the ultimate now for p.m. panache. Then, a stroke of pure genius to define the drama: a sumptuous fox collar. Executed in the graceful lines and form his dressing celebrates. For a one-woman show that will win spontaneous applause. Purebred wool flannel. Misses' sizes 6-12. $600. To be found in The Woodward Shops, at Downtown, Northland, Eastland, Oakland, Fairlane and Twelve Oaks only.

THE WOODWARD
SHOPS
hudson's

Furs labeled to show origin of import.

Kid's Day meant good times for lots of persons, including Renee Terreault who was "hanging around" the park.